Greek Forces Come To Grips With Revolters

Rebellious Naval Officers Seize Five Ships Of Greek Fleet

BOMBING PLANES USED IN ATTACK

Fear Casualties May Be Heavy But They Are Not Known As Yet

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

ATHENS, Mar. 2.—With heavy casualties already recorded, government forces came to grips today with rebellious naval officers who seized five ships of the Greek fleet and launched a revolt against the government of Premier M. P. Tsaldaris.

Holding out bitterly despite earlier defeat of army rebels soon after insurgent elements in both branches of the nation's armed forces attempted a coup d'etat, the naval insurrectionists aboard the captured warships clashed with government airplanes in the Sea of Candia off Crete.

(Editor's Note: A Central News dispatch to London stated it was feared the death-roll would mount into the hundreds.)

Ship Hit By Bombs

Bombing planes dispatched from military and naval airports overtook the rebel warships Averoff and Niki at sea. The latter ship was hit by bombs and disabled.

The Averoff, however, put up stiff resistance. Government planes dropped two bombs but the rebels replied with 100 rounds of small cannon and machine-gun fire. Casualties in this clash were not known.

Coincident with the Averoff's resistance, the government ordered shore batteries along the coast to open fire on the rebel ships whenever they approach within range. The insurrectionists apparently were well armed, as each sortie by loyal forces met with sharp return of fire.

Declare Revolt Suppressed

International Currency War Continues To Rage

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Mar. 2.—The international currency war raged unabated today as the pound sterling was hammered down to a new low and the price of gold skyrocketed to a new record high.

On the local foreign exchange market, the pound dropped three cents to $4.78¾, the lowest levels since devaluation of the dollar a little more than a year ago, while in the Paris market the sterling rate touched 71.812 francs, also a new record low. The frenzied rush for gold in London sent the price of the yellow metal to 146 shillings 10½ pence an ounce against 145 shillings 1 penny yesterday, an increase of 1 shilling 9½ pence an ounce, the largest over night fluctuation since the hectic days of the World War.

Fund For Hauptmann's Death Chair Fight Raised

(International News Service)

TRENTON, N. J., Mar. 2.—Bruno Richard Hauptmann's lawyers apparently have raised all the money they need to finance his fight to escape death in the electric chair as the slayer of the Lindbergh baby.

This was indicated here today by persons close to the defense who declared more than $20,000 had been raised since a Hunterdon county jury found Hauptmann guilty of first degree murder several weeks ago.

It is understood that $10,000 came in hand in letters that averaged as many as 500 a day, immediately after Hauptmann, his wife and lawyers made their public appeal for aid. The remainder was collected more

(International News Service)

NEWARK, N. J., Mar. 2.—Two guards were slugged and bound and 51 male prisoners furiously pounded at barred doors for an hour before a riot in the Newark house of detention was quelled today.

Twenty-six women prisoners, locked up in their own second floor dormitory, listened in terror as the roaring mob of male prisoners ranged through the building seeking an exit they could beat down.

Guards from the Newark street jail, across the street, police headquarters reserves and radio patrol squads were rushed to the detention house before the rioting could be quelled.

Seeking To Halt Hasty Marriages

State Legislature To Be Asked To Consider Changes In Marriage Laws

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Mar. 2.—Demands will be made of the state legislature for favorable consideration of legislation to amend the state marriage laws by a group of local women voters who, under Judge Lois McBride, are engaged today in a campaign to curb "Gretna Green" marriages.

Three resolutions, all aimed at forestalling hasty wedlocks, were adopted by a meeting of the women. They recommend revision of the bill, sponsored by Representative Herbert Cohen, York, to require a five-day notice of intent to marry rather than three days, make publication of marriage licenses mandatory and that cost of such publications be added to the license fee.

"I talked with Mr. Cohen," Judge McBride told the meeting, "and he said he would be willing to amend his bill, in committee, to five days, if we could help him to get it through."

WILL ROGERS SAYS:

(Special To The News)

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., Mar. 2.—Good deal of news. King of Siam abdicates. He always seemed like a pretty nice little fellow, but a king is sorter like a politician. It's hard to tell when he is making good or bad.

The Saar Valley was officially turned back to Germany. Too bad they don't allow the islands they took away from Germany to vote on whether they wanted to go back, too.

You know that's always been a sort of a touchy point with these big allied nations. They don't like to have anybody bring up the subject of the gobbling of Germany's possessions. That's the skeleton in their closet that they are not so proud of.

You can get you a baby bond, or a pound of baby beef —they both cost the same.

Yours,

Will Rogers.

House Majority For Democrats Is Decreasing

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Mar. 2. — The Democratic majority in the House of Representatives was cut to nine votes today, as illness temporarily struck another of its leaders.

Floor Leader Frank W. Ruth, Berks, was reported ill in a Washington hospital with a bad cold that may develop into pneumonia. He was stricken while attending the American Legislators' conference. His place probably will be taken by Rep. Herbert Cohen, York, until he returns.

Democrats started the biennial session two months ago with 117 members, 12 more than a constitutional majority. Rep. Harry N. Boyd, Westmoreland, floor whip, suffered a stroke. Rep. Eward B. Labar, Pike, died a short time later. Now Ruth is ill, cutting the active majority membership to 114.

Missouri Bank Is Looted By Bandit Gang This Morning

WAYLAY EMPLOYES ARRIVING FOR WORK

(International News Service)

NEOSHO, Mo., Mar. 2.—The First National bank here was looted of approximately $16,000 today by a gang of bandits who broke into the institution during the night and waylaid employees as they arrived for work.

The gang operated in two groups and had two automobiles in which they made their escape in opposite directions. Three of the outlaws operated inside the bank while their companions stood guard in an alley at the rear of the building.

Eight employees of the bank, including E. C. Coulter, the cashier, were tied up by the bandits. When a timelock opened the vault the trio scooped up all the bank's available cash and fled to the waiting cars and sped away.

Relief Projects Off Friday Night

All But Four RWD Projects In The County Abandoned Temporarily

With the exception of four small projects in the county, all RWD projects were discontinued Friday night, March 1, upon orders from State Administrator Robert L. Johnson. Lack of funds is ascribed as the reason for the shutdown, due to the impasse in congress over the passage of the $4,800,000,000 relief bill.

It is hoped here that money will be forthcoming within the near future to resume RWD operations. Many projects are uncompleted and if left stand for any length of time much of the work already done will be lost.

All workers on RWD who were laid off Friday night are today being certified to the direct relief rolls from which they will receive their checks until such time as the RWD reopens.

Judge Sentences Farmhand To Die

Sherman Strawser 29, Sentenced To Electric Chair For Killing

WANTED MONEY TO BUY GIRL DRESS

(International News Service)

MIDDLEBURG, Pa., Mar. 2—Despite an impassioned plea for clemency by his counsel, Sherman Strawser, 29, a farmhand today was sentenced to die in the electric chair for the murder of his former employer, Charles E. Gable, 64, a well known Snyder county farmer, on the morning of last February 12.

Strawser accepted his fate calmly as Judge C. C. Lesher, before whom he had pleaded guilty pronounced sentence while state troopers, warned of a possible demonstration against the defendant, stood guard.

Former Judge Miles I. Potter who was appointed by the court to defend the penniless Strawser, asked for clemency on the ground that Zella Gill, Strawser's 16 year old sweetheart, was involved in the plan to kill the farmer.

Strawser in his confession said he killed Gable and then robbed him of $80 to buy a wedding dress for Zella, and pay a fine for her father, Lester Gill, now in jail on a liquor charge.

House May Act On Bonus Bill In Coming Week

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 2.—Frankly ignoring the administration's attitude, house leaders today planned to bring the $2,000,000,000 soldiers bonus issue to a vote next week if possible.

The strategy of house leaders was to permit a bonus bill to pass—all predicted a whooping victory—and dump the issue into the lap of the senate.

Compromise proposals, leaders said, can be submitted to the senate when it wrestles with the problem.

With the ways and means committee planning to hold hearings only on Monday and Tuesday, it was possible that the house may act on the bonus issue Thursday.

Compromise On Wage Issue Being Sought

Senate Coalition Is Starting Drive To Force Start On Balancing Budget

WORK RELIEF BILL FATE IS UNCERTAIN

Efforts To Agree On Prevailing Wage Rate Issue Still Deadlocked

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, March 2—While administration leaders sought a compromise on the prevailing wage controversy over President Roosevelt's $4,880,000,000 Work Relief bill, a bipartisan senate coalition today organized a drive to force the government to start "balancing the budget."

Coalition leaders privately charged the government would have the stupendous indebtedness of $50,000,000,000 by the end of the next fiscal year. They declared the reported public debt of $28,000,000,000 was but a portion of the government's total outstanding indebtedness. The higher sum, they added, included such debts as the unpaid soldier's bonus, postal savings, guarantees of the bond isslues of emergency agencies and outstanding currency.

To Offer Amendment

The coalition will offer an amendment to the President's bill, forbidding expenditure of any part of the proposed $4,000,000,000 work fund until the administration has

Cummings' Fate Rests With Jury

Murder Trial Of Former Swissvale Police Chief Completed Friday

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Mar. 2.—Charged with the murder of his wife, Julia, Tom Cummings, former Swissvale police chief, today awaited the verdict of a jury that will decide his fate.

The case was given to the jurors, three women and nine men, late yesterday afternoon following the charge by visiting Judge S. A. Culver. Court was then adjourned.

In his charge Judge Culver pointed out that the jury could bring in a verdict of first degree murder, with a recommendation of death in the electric chair or life imprisonment; a second degree verdict, carrying a sentence of 10 to 20 years, or an acquittal.

Mrs. Cummings was slain early on the morning of last September 11, in the bedroom of her apartment. Her husband was arrested following the discovery of a revolver hidden in a chimney of the basement. It was contended that this was Cummings' gun, which, the state said, he used to murder his wife. Cummings contended that his wife was slain by "a mysterious enemy."

BODY OF STRANGLED MAN IS DISCOVERED IN VACANT HOUSE

Murder Victim Is Found Near Robinson's Crossing Beyond Edenburg

IDENTITY NOT AS YET KNOWN

Man Likely To Have Been Brought To House From Across State Line

Discovery of the body of a man in the cellar of a vacant house on the road to Lowellville, about a quarter mile beyond Robinson's Crossing, shortly before noon today, has developed a murder mystery for the State Police and County officials.

The man had been strangled to death, wire being pulled taught around his neck, and had evidently been dead for at least two weeks. He appears to be an Italian of about 30 years of age, and was fully clothed when found. He wore dark blue trousers, a pale green shirt, a purple colored sweater and a black scarf. The sweater had been pulled up over his head.

Discovery Made

The discovery of the body was made this morning by Fred Stouffer and his son, Robert, in the basement of an unoccupied home, owned by Miss Helen Eldridge, of Lowellville. Mr. Stouffer and his son were cleaning up the premises, preparatory to moving in soon, and the boy happened to go down cellar. He discovered the body of the man lying on the ground and quickly informed his father. The father investigated and determining that the body was cold in death, notified County Coroner Orville Potter. Mr. Potter is ill and C. E. Allen, a deputy hastened to the scene.

Dead Two Weeks

An examination by the latter showed that the dead man had been murdered, evidently strangled to death with a wire which was still tightly drawn about the neck. The body was in good state of preservation, but indications were that the man had been dead for at least two weeks.

Convinced immediately that it was a murder case, the deputy coroner summoned the state police from New Castle, and an investigation was immediately launched.

No Clue To Identity

Clothing on the man revealed nothing that would give a clue to his identity. Everything that might give any inkling as to identity had been removed. This made it apparent to the officers that the body may have been brought to the home and depositd, death having taken place somewhere else. Nearnss to the Ohio State Line, of the home gave emphasis to the belief that the murder victim was probably from that state, especially in view of the fact that no one has been reported missing in this section, of late, who might fit the case.

The remains will be brought to New Castle, and an effort is being made to find some method of identification that will give the officers a start on the task of unravelling the mystery.

Two Murder Cases On Court Docket

It is claimed that during an argument Stinnett shot Jones, who died in the Jameson Memorial hospital from the effects of his wounds.

The other murder case is that of James Mitchell, who is charged with shooting his wife, Evaline Mitchell. Th defendant claims that he was handling a revolver when it was accidentally discharged, the bullet striking his wife.

Eight Year Old Son Saves Life Of His Mother

Mrs. Frank Borio, Sr., Is Burned Severely When Clothing Takes Fire

Quick thinking and immediate action by her eight-year-old son Frank Jr., probably saved the life of Mrs. Frank Borio, Sr., of Moore avenue, Friday, when her clothing ignited while she was standing near a grate fire, and badly burned the back of her body.

Mrs. Borio was standing with her back against the grate, while preparing her son for school. The woman was bending over when her clothing caught on fire. Her son immediately grabbed a rug and wrapped it around his mother's body. He then summoned help.

Mrs. Borio's back was severely burned. Her condition, according to the attending physician, is fair.

FACES TRIAL FOR DEATH OF TEACHER

Charleroi Youth On Trial Monday

Accused In Connection With Death Of Donora School Teacher

YOUNG WOMAN DIED FROM BROKEN NECK

(International News Service)

GREENSBURG, Pa., Mar. 2.—Westmoreland county authorities announced today that William Leatherman, Charleroi youth, would be placed on trial in county court here Monday for the death of Viola Dennis, Donora school teacher, to whom he was engaged.

Miss Dennis died of a fractured neck suffered one night last summer while accompanying Leatherman to a party.

Leatherman claims the injury occurred accidently when the girl climbed out of his car after a petty quarrel and stumbled over an embankment near Webster. District Attorney Richard Laird, however, indicated the state will contend the youth pushed Miss Dennis over the grade when she stumbled from the car.

Assisted by state police, county authorities quietly investigated the case until six months later when the proceedings came into the open demands of the victim's father for criminal proceedings.

COMPROMISE ON WAGE ISSUE BEING SOUGHT

taken steps to amortize the debt by imposing new taxes and segregating the revenue in a special sinking fund. The issue raised would be whether the government shall take steps now to balance its budget, as promised by both parpes in their 1932 platforms, before spending another huge sum.

The President's bill faced a torturous legislative future. All efforts to compromise the differences between Mr. Roosevelt and the liberal senate bloc on the wage issue have failed. A counter proposal, offered by Senator Robinson (D) of Arkansas, with reported presidential blessing, was given a cool reception by the liberals, who insisted they were battling for a great principle which could not be compromised.

Bill Endangered

Several other threats endangered the bill's future. One was the drive of conservative Democrats to discard the whole work program, slash the appropriation to $1,880,000,000 and confine its use to direct relief and the sort of "made-work" now familiar to all communities. Some observers believed this would be the final fate of the bill.

Other attacks will come from the inflation and silver blocs.

The President's bill remained in an appropriation committee pigeonhole over the week-end. The committee probably will meet Monday to resume battling over it.

WEEKLY LETTER

Monday, March 4, 1935.
The Castleton
12:15 to 1:30 p. m.

Fellow Rotarian:

Do you know how wages are arrived at for RWD workers? Do you know how many hours a week they work? These questions are settled by arriving at the Budgetary deficiency and we will have Rotarian Jim Moorhead, the head of the local relief office tell us all about it so when we present taxpayers go on relief we will be able to figure out our own pay checks.

CARL E. PAISLEY
Secretary.

GREEK FORCES COME TO GRIPS WITH REVOLTERS

parts of the republic was declared entirely suppressed. A number of deputies friendly to the former Venizelos regime, held responsible for the uprising, were arrested, together with members of the republican defense organization.

Government plane which returned from bombing the rebel battleships showed signs of being well peppered during the fighting.

Only three government newspapers were published. These reported that Italian warships in neighboring waters had asked their commands for instructions in view of reports the Greek fleet had been in the hands of rebels.

Loyal troops used artillery in suppressing one battalion of the Republican guard, a fierce battle preceding the surrender.

It was announced officially that the government had known for some time that Gen. Pautiras was plotting a revolt while living at Cannes, France, and that as a result precautionary measuers had been taken.

Answering the signal for revolt, two companies of infantrymen of the Evzones barracks, some cadets from a military school at Evelpides, and five warships responded for action against the government.

The remainder of the armed forces, said the government, remained loyal, and the revolt soon was broken.

FUND RAISED FOR HAUPTMANS FIGHT

slowly, with the final lump being $1,500 collected at a New York City mass meeting earlier this week.

Word from the death house at the state prison here, where Hauptmann is confined, indicated that the Bronx carpenter was maintaining his customary placidity.

Mrs. Hauptmann Aids

New York, Mar. 2.—Mrs. Bruno Richard Hauptmann, wife of the convicted slayer of the Lindbergh baby, had made another apparently successful public appeal for funds to aid her husband's defense today. She appeared at a dance and entertainment given by a German society in Queens and spoke briefly in her native tongue.

A collection was taken up and, it is understood, $200 was raised for her.

She said:

"I am grateful that so many people are sticking by my husband and myself, and I know that you all feel the same as I do, that he is innocent of this crime. I visited my husband last Tuesday in the prison at Trenton and he is standing up like a soldier."

LONDON, Mar. 2.—Prison doors opened today for Mrs. May Brownhill, 62-year-old mother who put her imbecile son to death painlessly as an act of "mercy".

She was sentenced to death at Leeds in December of last year when a jury convicted her of murder in the first degree. She was later reprieved and a movement that spread throughout Britain was launched to win her freedom.

Public opinion favored her release and the government acted when a mounting mass of petitions bore witness to popular feeling.

Services Tonight At Wesleyan M. E.

The old time revival services which have been in progress at the Wesleyan Methodist church on Lyndal street for the past two weeks, have been attended by interested congregations every evening. The evangelist, Rev. Don Swineheart, of Bremen, Ohio, is preaching powerful sermons and commands the attention of his audience by his unusual earnestness and ability. The revival is scheduled to close Sunday night.

Rev. J. R. Swauger, the pastor, states that there will be services tonight with special music by two visiting Gospel singers, Dorsey Cox, of Akron, O., and Virgil Rushing, of Tennessee, who are appearing in a meeting at Tarentum, Pa., and consented to come here for this one service.

Correct this sentence: "A child could see the idiocy in this scheme," said the man, "So there's no danger that congress will accept it."

Minstrel Show Is Fine Success

Men's Bible Class Entertainment At Highland U. P. Draws Large Crowd

About 250 or 300 members of Highland U. P. church had an hour of genuine fun Friday evening in the church basement, when the Men's Bible class put on a minstrel show.

Rev. D. L. Ferguson, and Ralph Davis as end men almost "stole" the show but Ray Rhodes and Albert Batten were close seconds, vying with Richard Johns who capably filled the role of interlocutor. Judy Sypher was there with "oldtime music" which was never better and a supporting chorus was composed of Lee Marvin, John Staley, Leonard Kisthart, Ray Cartwright, Jack Edgar, Tom Lindsey, Dave Jones, Phil Williams and Gail Blim.

The audience, addressed by Mistah Davis as "ladies, what come with them, and the sprouts," was kept in an uproar by clever jokes and puns on well known associates. The specialty numbers were exceptionally good, including solos by Rev. Ferguson who sang "Ol' Man River"; Mr. Davis whose "hit" was "The Preacher and the Bear"; Mr. Kisthart, who sounded truly "The Big Bass Viol"; and Mr. Rhodes portraying "The Long Yaller Girl."

The quartet composed of Jones, Johns, Kisthart and Ferguson, was heard in "Close Harmony" which drew rounds of applause. So well were all the numbers received, in fact, that deeper appreciation was shown in the presentation of two handsome vegetable bouquets, one being wished upon Interlocutor Johns, and another from the members of the Men's class to Rev. Ferguson.

Young William Batten and James Vogan were heard in harmonica and accordian selections. The chorus work was most effective.

The evening's entertainment was under the management of R. S. Cline who deserves much credit for its success, along with all the minstrelers who acquitted themselves admirably.

Desertion Charged In Divorce Case

Mrs. Gertrude McClung, 405 Pittsburgh Circle, Ellwood City, has filed an application at the prothonotary's office for a divorce from her husband, Robert McClung of Cheyenne, Wyo., on the grounds of desertion.

The couple were married in May, 1926, and have two children. They were living in Cheyenne, Wyo., on July 17, 1930, when Mrs. McClung returned to Ellwood City to visit her mother, who was ill. The understanding when she left home was that her husband was to send her money to return, but he never sent it, despite repeated requests. He has done nothing since toward supporting Mrs. McClung and the children.

Your Sympathy
Words say so little when the Grim Reaper strikes. Our emotions are incapable of expression and in our stumbling, human way we endeavor to solace the bereaved. Try as we will, words are still inadequate. Not even flowers can express our emotion to the full but at least they are the most expressive medium we know. And when the flowers are arranged—tastefully and delivered fresh, their sympathy seems to be accentuated.

New officers have been chosen by the Rebekah chapter of the First U. P. church. They are as follows:

President, Mrs. Mary D. Gilfillan; vice president, Miss Dell Davidson; secretary, Mrs. Eliza Young; treasurer, Miss Harriet Smith; literature secretary, Mrs. Elsie Dickey; temperance and reform secretary, Mrs. James Chambers; thank offering secretary, Mrs. Marjorie Rogers.

The chapter had a most delightful dinner in connection with the election Thursday evening in the church dining room at 6:30 o'clock, at beautifully arranged tables lighted by tall green candles, tied daintily with maline bows, where places were set for 36 guests.

Mrs. Margaret Davis read the scripture when the meeting was adjourned to the parlor. The mission study, "Seed Corn", was reviewed by Mrs. Wea Carpenter, assisted by Mrs. Fern Lowden, Mrs. Eliza Young and Miss Harriet Smith.

Hostesses of the occasion were Miss Dell Davidson, Mrs. William James, Mrs. Margaret Davis, Mrs. Margaret Hanna, Miss Nora McGrath and Mrs. Florence Hoch.

O. D. D. Club.

Miss Harriet Wolfe of Moody avenue provided an interesting evening meeting for the O. D. D. club members on Friday. An unusual playlet titled "The Four Sisters" was presented by Irene Greenberg, Mollie Wolfe, Irene Saul and Marian Ginsberg.

Dancing was an enjoyable pastime and later dainty refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Miss Rose Greenberg. The next meeting will be on March 8 at the home of Mollie Wolfe, Long avenue.

Rachel Rebekah Team.

Mrs. Sadie Smith of Park avenue was hostess to the Rachel Rebekah degree team at her home Friday evening. She had as her efficient cohostess Mrs. Alice Thompson, and together they provided the group with an interesting evening of bingo playing. The first prize was awarded to Mrs. Nellie Houk and the second to Mrs. Marie Hill.

A dainty lunch was served. A business meeting also had been an event of the evening.

Polish Home Circle.

Members of the Polish Home circle were pleasantly entertained at the home of Mrs. J. Sharek, Long avenue, Thursday evening. The hours were spent with informal pastime and needlework. After a short business session, the hostess, assisted by Mrs. J. Ostrosky, served a delicious luncheon.

The circle will meet with Mrs. M. Kuzar of Waldo street on March 14.

Jolly Eight

Miss Edith Bidinotto, of Sampson street, entertained the Jolly Eight club Thursday evening. Cards and chat proved pleasing pastimes and the favors for 500 were awarded to Martha Sanders, Stanley Zwar and Rose Corio. At a suitable hour a delicious buffet lunch was served.

On March 7, Miss Johanna Bodendorfer, of Bell avenue, will entertain.

1935 Klub.

Mrs. Dorothy Crooks will entertain the 1935 club Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Genevra Emery, Crawford avenue.

Cooking School To Be Held On Tuesday

A Cooking School will be held at the Epworth M. E. Church, corner of Butler avenue and East Washington street, on Tuesday, March 5. Miss Helen Evelyn Jones, nationally famous cooking expert, who has endeared herself to the hearts of the women of New Castle, will have charge of the school. The ladies attending will be delighted with the many new recipes given by Miss Jones. Latest innovations in refrigeration, cooking equipment and fancy mixers will intrigue the members of the class.

A number of seats will be specially wired with bone conduction hearing aids, which will enable those with impaired hearing to hear the program through its entirety. For those wishing to use this equipment, special cards will be obtainable along with regular admission tickets.

Prizes will be distributed, ranging from fancy foods to sacks of flour. Admission is 25 cents and tickets will be on sale at Snyder Piano Company, 20 North Mercer Street, and by the Adams Street Unit of the M. E. Church.

Patrons are asked not to bring small children.

ESSENTIALLY A COWARD

HOW courageous are the Dillingers and the Barrows, the Floyds and the Nelsons and the rest of the gentry who enter banks in daylight, fight their way out in a blaze of machine-gun and revolver fire and live from day to day in a close intimacy with death?

The question has been asked many times during the course of the successful crusade against them and the answer usually given is confirmed by Dr. Harry R. Hoffman, a noted Chicago psychiatrist, who has examined hundreds of criminals and who believes that the average desperado is utterly devoid of true courage.

The criminal walks unflinchingly into danger often because a low mentality and a lack of imagination enable him to do so. A peace-loving citizen, Dr. Hoffman points out, would exhibit unusual courage in doing some of the things a desperado does, because he would be doing it when he has knowledge of probable consequences.

Dr. Hoffman has found that nine out of ten criminals wilt and give pitiable evidences of a broken, fear-stricken spirit when their guns are taken from them or they are locked in cells. Basically, the man who takes human life as if it were a cheap commodity is a coward.

CONTRADICTIONS

An English visitor not long ago made a three or four weeks' trip across the United States, and the things he saw impressed him so deeply that he had to retire to his study at once and write a book.

In this book, according to advance reports, he expresses his utter amazement at the contradictions he found in American life. Accustomed to the staid and orderly conditions of England, he was bewildered and a little appalled by what he saw over here.

These things being so, his only possible recourse was to turn author and speak his mind about things.

It is impossible not to feel a little sympathy for him, because if there ever was a country which it is impossible to understand at a glance it is this America of ours.

Some of us, indeed, have lived in it all our lives and still don't understand it. It is, all in all, about as amazing a land of contrasts and contradictions as human beings ever made.

It is a land which professionalizes college athletics and makes heroes out of prize fighters and baseball players; it is also a land which produces scientists and casts a 200-inch telescope to look at stars that man never saw before.

It is the land where the dollar is worshiped, but it is also the land which is willing to go seven or eight billion dollars in the hole in an effort to break its way out of a trade depression.

It is the land of cheap movies, cheaper radio, and "society leaders" who endorse tooth paste for pay—and it is also the land that produces persons like Jane Addams and gives men like Leopold Stokowski free rein to create beauty.

It puts a Huey Long in its senate, and then counter-balances him with a George W. Norris. It is the land of the Lindbergh kidnaping, but it is also the land which produced Lindbergh himself.

It is world-famous as a land of boasters, but for years it has paid good money to foreign authors and lecturers to tell it what is wrong with it.

It is the hard-hearted land of lynchings, and it is the generous land which will send millions of dollars to Japanese earthquake victims. It maintains a gigantic navy and spends millions on aircraft, but it is the only nation brave enough to expose the chicanery of munitions manufacturers.

You could go on like that for an hour. How, indeed, is any foreigner to understand such a people?

A compound of wisdom and foolishness, of braggadocio and humility, of strength and weakness—we can't understand ourselves.

We can only sense that we are a strange people of infinite possibilities, who are trying to build a society unlike any other on earth . . and our saving grace is the fact that generally speaking we have spasms of courage and of idealism that help prod us on to try making it better than any other.

Between spasms a sense of humor contributes to helping keep us from killing cynicism and discouragement.—Times, Monroe, Wisconsin.

REGULATION IS SUGGESTED

Enactment by the legislature of a law requiring motor vehicles to stop within reasonable distance of a school bus stopped along the highway to receive or discharge passengers is being urged by the Pennsylvania Motor Federation. Several deaths have occurred and a number of narrow escapes reported on Pennsylvania highways through failure of drivers to use proper caution in passing school buses, according to the federation.

Ohio, Indiana and several other states have laws requiring that motorists stop for a school bus loading or discharging passengers. Consolidation of schools in many rural communities has brought about in Pennsylvania during the past several years a big increase in the use of buses to carry children and these boys and girls must be given every possible protection.

Many drivers are extremely cautious when they see a bus loaded with children on the street or highway, but there are motorists to whom this means nothing. Through a law requiring every driver to stop when a bus halts to receive or discharge passengers existing hazards can be considerably reduced.

ORDEAL OF LONELINESS

When the news came to the outside world that Admiral Byrd had left the main camp at Little America and had undertaken a long, lonely vigil with the attainment of scientific purposes in view, there was considerable speculation as to the reasons why he did not take with him at least one companion.

After determining that it was impossible to take food for more than two men to the advanced camp, Admiral Byrd decided to go alone because of his belief that it was psychologically impossible for only two men to live through the period of unbroken darkness together, at least on satisfactory terms. He feared a temperamental clash.

There is psychological opinion and also actual experience to support the soundness of Admiral Byrd's theory. Loneliness plays havoc with the nerves of men and it is known to have transformed close friends into bitter enemies.

BOREDOM IS A SIN

"So you want to get into heaven?" said Saint Peter to the Mortal Soul.

"Yes, Saint Peter, I would like to come into heaven," said the Mortal Soul. "I have tried on earth to be a good man. May I enter?"

"Just one moment, please, before you enter," said Saint Peter. "Were you ever bored when you were living down there on our little earth?"

"Yes, I was," replied that Mortal Soul. "There were times when I was terribly bored, and longed for heavenly peace and quiet."

"Then, my friend, I am sorry, but you cannot come in today. I am afraid that if you were bored on that heaven, and we can't have bored people around here. . . . Please go back and take another look at the earth and its people. Stay a while and cure your boredom. Find what you seemed to have missed.

"Look at all those lovely trees, leafy or bare or in blossom. Listen to the singing birds. Admire the clean lines of horses, the lean grace of all wild animals. . . . Watch sunsets and dawns, stars and changing moons and glowing sun. Green mountain peaks and falling snow and running water. . . . Things that grow, things that men make. . . . Take nothing, my friend, for granted and feel boredom slip away from you.

"Live close to people in joy or in sadness. Be a part of their lives, not apart from them. Struggle, suffer, lose, win, create, accomplish. Despair, even, and get your courage back again. Starve, fight, dream and do. Let the tears fall, let laughter ring out. Be alive on that fascinating earth you have left behind you—and learn at last that boredom is one of the greatest of sins. . . . And after you have fallen in love with that good earth you have despised so foolishly, come up here again and I'll have another look at your credentials."

So the man went back to the earth and lived to be 118 years, 8 months and 16 days old, and enjoyed every minute of his second chance at life.

ORGANIZED EFFORT ACCOMPLISHES MOST

There are not many people so very busy that they must work at breakneck speed.

Usually the person who is always in a hurry and almost invariably late is the one who wastes time.

This results in extra speed to make up for squandered minutes.

The persons who accomplishes most seems never in a hurry but is always busy.

He has a plan and follows it.

The rusher has no plan, so he can't keep up to anyone's schedule.

This rule holds good among autoists.

Those who drive the fastest have the least to do when they reach their destination.

Often a driver who passes at top speed—far beyond the limit—will be found later visiting with a gas station attendant.

The workers who seem to have more than twice what should be expected of them will be seen loafing or very often doing something not in the least important to the main object.

If the necessary jobs which must be done by a specified time are undertaken first, the lesser jobs may be done in slack time.

The one who appears abnormally rushed reverses this order.

JANET DISCUSSES AN AGE-OLD PROBLEM

Whenever I ask for long dresses to wear
Or shoes with high heels or a wave for my hair
Or on school nights, permission to go to a show
Or a neighborhood dance, mother always says: "No!
And remember the answer is final and flat—
Your mother was married before she did that."
If I mention New York and the wish to go there,
Mother puts down her sewing and says: "I declare
Who's ever have guessed that a twelve-year old girl
Wohld be wanting to sample New York's dizzy whirl.
Before ever I'd made such a journey my dear,
Your father and I had been married a year."
Before ever a compact and lipstick she carried
Or painted her finger nails, mother was married
She was married before she had powdered her nose
Or went very often to dances and shows.
And even though times very different are,
She was married before she had driven a car.

If I ask for silk stockings she say: "Gracious me,
I was married before I had silk hosiery!
I was married before I had been on a ship
Or taken so much as a sleeping-car trip."
And sometimes I wonder and wish that I knew
What mother before she was married, did do?

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight 5:52. Sun rises tomorrow 6:32.

Sentiment is growing for a six-day week in the state legislature. They could get a lot of their work done without having to chase back home to consult their political backers so often, if this were the case.

Governor Earle will have a lot of support in his campaign to eliminate useless jobs of which there are plenty in the state of Pennsylvania. He could continue this on down to the county and city units, too, and save us more money.

"Twelve o'clock! Can't he tell when it's time to go home?"

"But father! You always said you hated anyone who watched the clock.

What really gives some girls that shopworn expression, is the fear of being left on the shelf.

If the two cent proposed increase in taxes is passed by the State Legislature the cigaret smoker who consumes a pack of these little puffs each day will pay a tax of eight and one half cents. Of course there are hard hearted folks who will say that people have no business smoking cigarettes, but they could also get along without lipstick, powder and paint. Why hit the cigarette smoker for a knockout?

Law must be fair. If you can force a man to employ you, he can force you to work for him.

There are better places to waste sympathy than on papa and mama Dionne, who are now kicking because the Canadian government took over the guardianship of their quintuplets. When the children were born the parents were on public relief. When it developed that the babies, because of world wide interest, became a source of income the parents were taken off the dole and given $75 a month from the quintuplets trust fund. Since that they have filled a lucrative engagement in vaudeville. They don't seem to realize the government saved their children, but now that they have money they're getting nigh-hat. Lots of people get that way when prosperity comes.

The constant pull of the moon against the earth as it revolves about the sun, is eventually going to cause a day to be forty-seven days long instead of 24-hours, a scientist claims. This will please the fellow who hates to get up out of bed at 8 o'clock in the morning.

KNOW ANY BIGGER?

There's a lot about those cyclones in southwest Kansas V. F. Tannehill, of Longview, Wash., could relate, but as he fears he would not be believed he confines himself to the happenings of the summer of '92 when the winds were of something less than cyclone velocity.

For three days hot winds blew steadily over that section of the anti-cigarette state until by midnight of the third day there wasn't a pea or a cherry which hadn't been dried up and blown away. Faced with a food shortage, the people took to eating jack rabbits which were plentiful thereabouts. Morning, noon and night man, woman and child ate jack rabbit week in and week out, until, as you would expect, this diet began to have a peculiar effect.

Of course, there had always been some athletes in that section of Kansas, but nothing could touch the performance of Grandma Perkins, who broke the world's broad jump record at the local county fair the day she celebrated her 83rd birthday. And even Daddy Fairbanks won laurels for himself by halving the time on the world's quarter-mile record. Daddy hadn't done much training lately, but even so, he said, he made a better showing than when he ran in a championship race the year the War of 1812 broke out. Unfortunately for Grandma Perkins and Daddy there were no track officials there to record their time. In some of the more strenuous sports a few of the younger members of the community excelled, but none were as spectacular as the run and immense jump that Grandma made. When it came to fights, it was quite common to see the fighters leaping over each other kicking viciously.

Perhaps the strangest effect the rabbit diet produced on these Kansans was in the matter of babies. One of the neghboring families was blessed with the arrival of triplets, and another, living a half mile down the road, were overwhelmed with quadtriplets. It was a circus alone to see how those babies hopped around.

Some fifty years ago spelling bees were a source of entertainment and education in Lawrence county. An attempt was made last winter to resume this old sport, but it met with indifferent success. So many people nowadays realize that they are such poor spellers that it is hard to get them to give an exhibition of their ignorance. When they are given such a word as "syzgy" to spell they just naturally wilt.

Fashion advisers state that there will be no more material in bathing suits this year than there was last, which is probably just a polite way of saying that there will be less.

Husbands are a good bit like hard times. They are never so bad but what they could be a little worse.

Says Editor E. T. Rodemeyre of the Centralia (Mo.) Fireside Guard: "A farmer friend tells us that in investigating the federal farm loans he has found that if a farmer has all of his stock mortgaged, had no money and is in absolute want, he can get some free seeds, which if planted with a post-hole digger that will go down to moisture, may grow but can not mature before the frost gets the crop. But, all the while the government employee on the job of giving 'relief' is drawing a high salary and probably gets free gas for his car as he rides around over the country."

When a young couple drop out of sight, anxious relatives always fear foul play or an elopement, and we presume that one would be just as bad as the other.

On a rainy Sunday you can get the same effect by placing a spare tire in front of your chair and watching it all day.

SYRIAN BR'ER RABBIT

The tales Uncle Remus told didn't come from Georgia after all, according to archeologists of the Oriental Institute of the University of Chicago. They claim Br'er Rabbit and all his friends came from ancient Syria originally, and by being handed down by word of mouth now exist in a Southern locale.

The world is gradually getting back to normal after the big noise at the Hauptmann trial, but an effort is being made at Pittsburgh to make a sensation of the Andy Mellon tax case. So far the government don't seem to be getting anywhere. There's one big difference between the Hauptman and the Mellon cases. If Andy loses it won't be necessary for his admirers to pass the hat.

Scientists tell us that in eight billion years the days will be twenty-four hours long and so will the nights. Seems there's always something to worry about.

Pictures smuggled out of Soviet Russia showing the terrible scenes of death and suffering in the wake of famine, are adequate proof that the Moscow-controlled food and farm products supply is a tragic farce. Yet there are radicals here who would put us in the same boat. For them: 48 hours to board ships for home.

When some inconsequential case gets before the courts you can't convict the accused unless all twelve of the good men and true agree upon a verdict. But our whole monetary structure, which hits our pockets most, can be settled by our highest court by a majority of one, five one way and four another. How come?

Enemies aren't so bad. They slander us, but they aren't the ones who come and tell us about it.

NEW YORK, Mar. 2.—There probably will be much discussion now in administration circles concerning federal judges.

Five who gave adverse decisions on the NRA are old standpat Republican appointees. They hold their jobs for life.

But there are 30 emergency judgeships and congress now has a measure before it to make those permanent, life-long. That means removal only by impeachment.

There may be a searching investigation of those appointees prior to making their tenure permanent.

Administration supporters say that many of the federal district judges are unaware or unresponsive to vast social changes that have occurred since the days they were cut in competitive life, chiefly as corporation lawyers.

FORCES COURSE

Adverse court decisions on the NRA are expected to have an important bearing on the Roosevelt administration's own course.

Those decisions may cause the administration to abandon a middle-of-the-road course and put through labor and trade amendments to the pending NRA bill that would remove present obscurities. That is exactly what some of the large business interests do not desire. But congress —especially the senate—is in a receptive mood for such clarifications, and the president knows it.

NO MORGAN MYSTERY

J. P. Morgan's partners are trying to dissipate the mystery connected with Morgan's sale of art treasures and "surplus land" around his estates.

The Morgan partners say that Morgan's purpose is to accumulate money to pay the inheritance taxes on his huge estate when he dies—without disturbing the estate.

BETHLEHEM EARNINGS

The best boost for the McSwain bill "to take the profits out of war" was the digging up by the senate munitions committee that Bethelehem Shipbuilding company had profits of $68,000,000 during the war.

DONAHEY'S LETTER

A. Vic Donahey, Ohio Democrat, known for pursuing his own course, who came to the United States senate in spite of the Roosevelt administration, is running true to colors. He, together with Senator Robert Bulkley, of Ohio, ordinarily a Roosevelt supporter, voted for the "prevailing wage" amendment.

Ohio has a large industrial population.

But, of course, both senators received some protests.

Senator Donahey (and this is characteristic) responded to each protestor with this form letter (and saw that workers heard of it):

"With relation to your objections on my vote for the McCarrin amendment, let me advise you that I have never yet short-changed a working man, and never will, knowingly.

"Every progressive man in the senate voted for this measure. I will continue to support it. The public was led to believe that it would cost additional billions by reason of the adoption of this amendment. This is absolutely untrue. It will not cost one cent additional.

"The principle that 'the laborer is worthy of his hire' should apply equally to the unemployed as well as to the employed labor of America in either public or private endeavor.

"Why lower the living standards of all working people because of the desperation of the unemployed?

"The majority cannot jam their policies down my throat unless they are right. Furthermore, for your information, I will vote against the $4,880,000,000 public works appropriation if it is not earmarked and intelligently explained. I am in full sympathy with public work relief but I have some regard for my oath of office.

"I will make mistakes, but they will not be dictated mistakes; they will be mistakes of judgment. I appreciate frank, honest criticism."

SATURDAY, MAR. 2

March 2, 1638—New Sweden was established in America.

Descendants of the Scandinavians who had come to the western land in 996 A. D. and named it vinland the Good, and also Skraellinga Land, came to the Delaware River in the ship-of-war Key of Colmar and a smaller vessel Bird Griffin.

Leader of the expedition was Peter Minuit, 58, Prussian, who had been governor of New Netherlands (New York) until he clashed with the Dutch government and was discharged.

Mar. 2, 1929—A lot of persons ignorant or forgetful of history innocently supposed that wars were over as 11 nations deposited their ratification of the Kellogg-Briand anti-war treaty at Washington, thereby completing their pledge to renounce war as instrument of national policy.

Military expenditures of the signatory nations have increased every year since, and two of the treaty-nations, Italy and Japan, are currently using war as an instrument of national policy.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

JUST ADOBE

The oldest skyscraper in America the "Great House of the Casa Grande" in Arizona, has been given a new roof by the United States Government.

Built more than five hundred years before the landing of Columbus by a race that has since vanished completely, the ruins of what was once an imposing four-story structure were gradually being destroyed by sun, rain and wind until the Government stepped in and covered it with a modern roof. The new roof in no way detracts from the looks of the ruins, being supported on a new structure at some height above the ancient walls.

Whoever built the "Great House of the Casa Grande" built well, for these walls that have stood for centuries were made out of ordinary mud—adobe

You're Wrong If You Believe— That George M. Pullman invented the railroad sleeping-car or built the first ones used in this country.

That food can be boiled with equal ease everywhere.

It can't. Persons living at high elevations have difficulty in getting things to boil. On Pike's Peak, for instance, it takes five times as long for potatoes to be boiled as in the Minneapolis, Minn., home of E. W. Upcott, who calls this to our attention. The reason, of course, is the reduced pressure at high elevations. On tall mountains, water boils at so low a pressure that food cannot be cooked by boiling.

Mr. Upcott adds that we're wrong if we believe that cornstarch won't explode.

New Minister To Speak At Pentecostal

First Pentecostal Congregagation To Hear New Pastor On Sunday Morning

REV. BOSTON TURNER BEGINS PASTORATE

Rev. Boston W. Turner, in his capacity as new pastor, will on Sunday morning deliver his first sermon from the pulpit of the First Pentecostal church of this city.

Rev. and Mrs. Turner arrived in New Castle this week from Camden, N. J., where the former has been pastor of the Calvary Tabernacle, and took up their residence at 128 North Walnut street. Their coming was greeted enthusiastically by the First Pentecostal congregation; the women of the church served a sumptuous chicken dinner and had the parsonage all prepared for the comfort of the new occupants. A reception was held in their honor.

Rev. Turner, although a young man, comes here after extensive experience in church work, and with fine recommendation. He received his training in the ministry at the Bethel Bible Training school of Newark, N. Y., and has been preaching since. He is a man of charming manners, a splendid speaker, and his new congregation is unanimous in its welcome and appreciation.

He was extended a call on January 1 of this year. The church had been without a pastor since Rev. John Kellner resigned to go to Binghamton, N. Y., on the first of September, 1934.

The new pastor will deliver sermons both morning and evening on Sunday. The morning subject will be "The Language of the Blood of Jesus".

Tea Strainers, Chicken Wire Used To Create "Bugs" For "Insect Comedy" At College

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Mar. 2. —Tea strainers, chicken wire, papier mache, copper wire, and cloth—that's what bugs are made of! At least that's how bugs are made by the students and stagecraft at Westminster college as they complete the costumes for "The World We Live In," satirical comedy. The play will be produced in the little theater of the college next Wednesday, Thursday, Friday, and Saturday nights.

Under direction of Professor A. T. Cordray Miss Isabel Scheetz, Hudson, O., and students in stagecraft have planned and made all special costumes for the production which will have a cast of 40 students. A few of the more conventional attires have been rented for the production. All characters in the play are insects, each one symbolic of a type of human.

Masks for some of the insect characters have been made of papier mache. Tea strainers are used for eyes on some of the masks. Snail shell costumes are wire frames over which has been stretched chicken wire. This has been covered by dyed cloth.

The stage setting is an ingenious combination of wood, cardboard and cloth, so arranged as to represent an enthill and different ground levels of a forest scene. Gauze netting stretched over the front of the stage, and special lighting effect, worked out in the little theater, will give atmosphere to the production.

Two months of preparation have gone into the planning and making of sets, costumes and properties for the production, and it promises to be one of the outstanding plays of the long list of dramatic successes under Professor Cordray.

On Court House Hill

Deputy Sheriff Elmer Taylor this morning mailed out notices for petit jurors to appear for jury duty on Monday, March 18, being the second week of criminal court.

Commission of Edward E. Marshall, as notary public, was filed at the office of Register and Recorder, William R. Hanna today. Notary commissions are issued by the state department.

Bert Dinsmore, assisted by Janitor Clifford James, is building a book case in the south end of the corridor on the second floor of the court house. This has been waste space and it will accommodate a truck load of records when completed.

Prothonotary R. M. Campbell had inquiries from Akron, O., yesterday regarding an Akron couple who were supposed to have obtained a marriage license here and to have been married by Justice of the Peace, H. M. Reynolds. Search showed that no license to the couple had been granted here and Reynolds had married nobody giving the names mentioned.

Deputy Sheriff Ben Hartland yesterday served a subpoena in divorce on Sarah J. Haswell of Perry township. The application was made at Clinton, Iowa, by her husband, John W. Haswell. According to the papers received at the sheriff's office, the divorce is asked on the grounds of desertion.

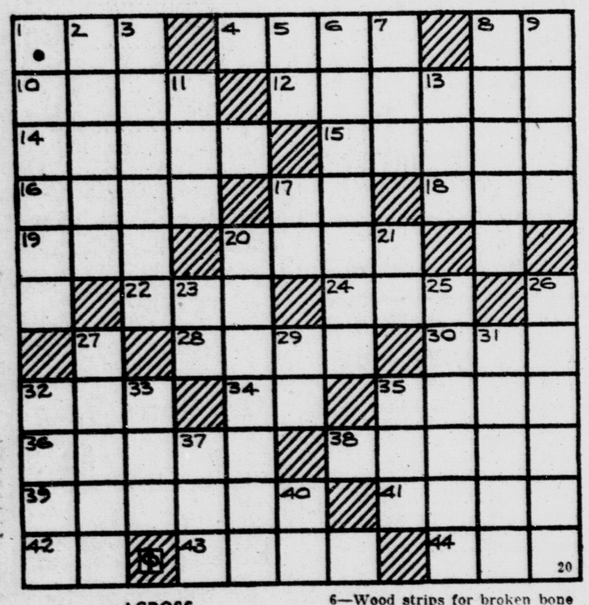

In the jury list for March 11 which was published in The News, Richard R. Hilliard of Bessemer, was listed as a laborer, whereas he is a foreman at the Metropolitan brick plant. The error was probably made by the person who turned in the name of Mr. Hilliard to the jury commissioners.

In the case of the Peoples Savings and Trust Company, use of Metropolitan Life Insurance Company against Frank Herjecki, testimony was taken before Judge James A. Chambers on a petition to stay a writ of execution. It was claimed by the defendant that to sell his property in the present depressed market would work a hardship. After hearing the testimony as to the value of the property and the amount of the mortgage Judge Chambers took the briefs of attorneys and will hand down a decision later.

The court is considering the appointment of an assistant in the office of Parole Officer Jack Dunlap, to take care of clerical work. Dunlap has managed to do this himself so far, but it is understood that the plan is to give him additional work in checking up on delinquents in non-support cases When these cases are tried orders are generally made for the payment of a certain amount per week by the husband to the wife. When these payments are not made a process is often issued for the delinquent and he is lodged in jail, where he remains until his case can be heard. Often the delinquency is due to inability to secure work. If additional help is given the parole officer he will be required to keep a check on persons who fail to comply with the orders of court and report on the man's ability to pay.

Sheriff Edward D. Pritchard has devised a card system for taking care of the registration of brands of chickens and cattle owned by farmers of the county. Heretofore when chickens have been stolen, it has usually been difficult for owners to identify their birds when arrests have been made and a prisoner is placed on trial at court. Under a system which is being introduced in the county, the poultry owner is given a brand. It is placed on a chicken's wing by an injection of indellible ink, such as is used in tattooting. This brand, which is usually a number, is registered in the sheriff's office. When stolen chickens are recovered it is then a very simple matter to identify them In the card system arranged by Sheriff Pritchard the name and address of the farmer is given, and his brand is perforated on the card. So far over fifty cards have been returned to the sheriff's office.

Industrial Outlook In Ellwood Good

Plants Are Operating Well At Present Time, Survey Reveals

SOME OF PLANTS ARE AT CAPACITY

ELLWOOD CITY, Mar. 2.—Ellwood City is experiencing one of the most encouraging and optimistic periods of business recovery it has had in years, it is evident, as a result of a survey made of the industries in the city.

Facts, figures and statements of the present time as compared with those of the past four years, put an optimistic outlook on business for the future.

Out of 13 major industries in the city ten of them are doing a fine business in comparison with three and four years ago.

Since its employment spurt last summer the local Shelby plant of the National Tube company on an average has been kept busy. The payrolls of May, July, August, November, December of 1934, and February of this year have been quite large. One of the most busiest periods is seen for the month of March. Preliminary plans for April and May look bright.

The Aetna Standard Engineering company has been working 90 per cent of its capacity for the last two months and will continue to do so for a period, according to the business outline of officials. The payrolls of the last two months have been the largest of anytime in the past four years. Within the last two months the plant has employed 100 additional men, it is reported. Where they could not obtain their former employes new ones were hired.

The Mathews Conveyor company is working near capacity since receiving a large order a few months ago. The business has been 33 per cent better in the past few months over 1933 and the payroll has been doubled or a 78 per cent increase over that period.

Ellwood City Forge company, operated by J. A. and D. A. Evans, has resembled a bee hive in the past few months. Their business and payroll has been doubled or an increase of 75 per cent. Quite a few additional men were employed. The plant is making some of the largest forgings it has had in years.

Business in the Beaver Enameling company plant here has about trebled over a few years ago and the payroll has been more than doubled. At present the plant is going at capacity and has a bright outlook for continuing for a spell, according to an official statement. Just recently there has been an employment spurt here.

Business in the Ellwood company, a foundry operated by C. W. Carbeau, has been so good in the past year that the plant and personnel have had to be increased. It is operating at capacity at present and orders are awaiting them for quite a period.

The situation is similar at the American Cotter Pin company. The plan is working at capacity. Business has increased about 75 per cent and the pay roll about 40 per cent. There are orders for three months ahead, according to a statement of the plant manager.

The Ellwood Brass & Bronze company, operated by George Hemmerly, has been kept on the go. The plant has been flourishing. There are sufficient orders for a period to come. The personnel and payroll have been appreciably increased.

Ellwood City Iron & Wire company, operated by S. D. Johnston and sons, has been operating well for the past few months. More men have been employed. The plant has been kept busy in working on all steel buildings. There are still many orders waiting to be attended to, according to the plant manager.

Two plants, the Ellwood Steel corporation and the Stronach Nail are awaiting a revival in the building industry, at which time nails will be in demand. There is a hopeful outlook for them when the government gets its building program in full swing.

Specialty Foundry company on Factory avenue has been inactive but is making arrangements to operate again as soon as business details have been attended to.

All in all this is one of the brightest periods the city has experienced in several years.

Mrs. Anna Wilkinson Passes Away At Hospital After Three Weeks Illness

ELLWOOD CITY, Mar. 2—Ellwood City today is mourning the death of one of its pioneer residents and most active citizens with the passing of Mrs. Anna Wilkinson, 83, at 4 o'clock this morning in the Ellwood City Hospital after an illness of three weeks.

The deceased was one of the most beloved citizens of the community and had acquaintances and friends from all walks of life. She had been a resident of this city for nearly 30 years and a member of the Emmanuel Reformed church here for 25 years.

Mrs. Wilkinson was born in England where she spent her early life. In 1874 she was married to Samuel Wilkinson, a pattern maker of the National Tube Company. They came to America in 1888 and to Ellwood City in 1906. While here Mr. Wilkinson served two terms as a school director and was treasurer of the board for two years. He was chairman of the building committee at the time the Hartman school was built. Mrs. Wilkinson was preceded in death by her husband in July, 1926. In March of 1924 the couple had celebrated their Golden Wedding anniversary.

Mrs. Wilkinson is survived by only one daughter, Elizabeth, at home. Funeral services will be held on Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the late home at 512 Franklin avenue.

At an appointed hour a dainty luncheon was served by the hostess, with the assistance of Mrs. Duffy. In two weeks the club will meet at the home of Miss Margaret McDanel on the New Brighton road.

Social Evening At Steinberger Home

ELLWOOD CITY, Mar. 2.—Mrs. Clytus Steinberger delightfully entertained a number of friends at her home on the country club road.

Bridge was the chief diversion of the evening with two tables in play. Prizes at the conclusion went to Mrs. Berlin Smith and Miss Sue Cox.

A delectable menu was served by the hostess, with the assistance of Mrs. Oscar Dahl. Those present on the occasion were the Misses Sue Cox, Marjorie Liebendorfer, Frances Romack and the Mesdames Berlin Smith, Judd Liebendorfer, Harry Latimer, Oscar Dahl and Howard Jones.

Ellwood Trims Rochester High

Tubers Use Fine Passing Attack To Take 44-21 Victory Last Night

COLE STARS WITH NINE FIELD GOALS

ELLWOOD CITY, Mar. 2.—Rochester high passers were baffled by a diversified passing attack of an Ellwood City high quintet Friday evening at the Lincoln gym and were humbled 44-21.

Bill Cole, sensational local forward, again displayed his form by caging nine field goals for a total of 18 points. Luxenberg and Scopelite also gave a creditable accounting of themselves. The fine floor work of Alex Robuck caught the eye of the spectators.

The locals got clicking on all six in the last half. They held a 10-7 edge in the initial period and 21-13 at the half. They went to work seriously in the third stanza and counted up 18 points to 5 for the visitors. Ellwood also got an edge in the final chapter with the subs in the affray. Moore and Elling played a good game for Rochester.

The Ellwood Reserves took a convincing 30-14 victory over the Rochester Reserves in the preliminary game. They took an early lead which they never relinquished. The score at the half was 13-6. The locals staged a strong rally in the last quarter. Houserman and Young were outstanding for the victors while Genevie was best for the losers.

Stock Market Is Stationary

Main Body Of Stocks Shows Only Minor Changes After Opening Today

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Mar. 2.—The stock market drifted listlessly today awaiting the outcome of the pound-dollar currency war.

With the exception of the gold and silver shares which were stimulated by the skyrocketing of prices for gold and silver in the London market, the main body of stocks showed only minor changes.

U. S. Smelting rose to a new high for the current movement above 122 for a gain of more than a point, while Cerro De Pascoe, American Smelting, Howe Sound and Alaska Juneau scored fractional gains.

Industrial shares including U. S. Steel, Bethlehem and American Can held in a rut.

General Motors drifted fractionally under yesterday's closing prices. Chrysler was barely steady.

Irregularity prevailed in the railroad shares where New York Central, Baltimore & Ohio and Pennsylvania held narrowly.

There was little to feature the utility shares.

Building shares were steadier following yesterday's decline.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

MIAMI, Fla., Mar. 1.

THIS IS written going south through Florida, newspapers all the way down from New York complaining of bitter cold, thick snow along the track much of the way. When you run into Florida and turn east toward the Atlantic and the Gulf Stream, no more bitter cold.

The black pig and her young ones just outside the window, mercifully spared from the government "farrow sow" slaughter of the innocents, are rooting in hot sunlight.

A young colored woman, dressed in beautiful wide stripes, knitting outside her door, has chosen a place in the shade. Room abundant and winter sunlight for fifty millions more down here, and some day they will come when men learn how to balance production and distribution and stop cheating and killing each other.

One hundred millions and more will live in California, champion all-year-round-sun parlor of the world. Complete development of the airplane, swift flying, slow landing, transportation at normal cost, will make available for one thousand million more Americans beautiful sites now neglected on hilltops and mountains. Twice the present population of the earth could live comfortably and happily here in the United States and will, some day.

The state of Texas alone, intensively cultivated, could feed the two thousand millions on earth today.

Get your railroad ticket, steamship ticket, airplane reservation or your 1935 automobile, travel and see this country. Now it is cheaper to travel than to stay at home. Not to own a car is extravagance.

HAILE SELASSIE, the first emperor of Abyssinia and "king of kings" of Ethiopia, who does not like Mussolini's looks, or his threats, writes conciliatory letters to Mussolini and the Italian king.

Thousands of Selassie's Mohammedan subjects are leaving Abyssinia to join the Italian army, eager to fight against their emperor. They dislike the Abyssinian brand of Christianity.

Semi-barbarous, primitive people hate each other as dogs hate foxes. In India the Mohammedans make it easy for the British to hold down the Hindus. Providence seems to be on the side of the higher civilizations.

SOMEBODY sent Senator Huey Long a bomb, deadly on the outside, innocent inside. Senator Huey Long, said to "blame J. Pierpont Morgan and Standard Oil for part of his troubles," is probably mistaken. J. Pierpont Morgan and Standard Oil do not send bombs to anybody, and if they did the bombs would explode.

Rupert Peyton, of the Louisiana House of Representatives, amusing himself disrespectfully at the expense of Senator Huey Long, interrupts proceedings in the Legislature to remark:

"I have just received a mysterious package containing a bomb. There was a message with it, saying, 'Beware, beware, we will kill you to pieces.' Signed, 'J. Pierpont Morgan and the Standard Oil Company.'"

Mr. Peyton told the Legislature:

"I left my rifle at home and I want a special bodyguard of a ccuple of companies of militia."

Sometimes ridicule is more effective than abuse.

ALABAMA VOTES dry, stands with Kansas, one of the two dry states of the union. Northern racketeers and bootleggers must not hastily conclude that Alabama offers a paradise of profit.

First, Alabama knows how to make corn whisky at a price per gallon that would discourage any bootlegger; second, the men of Alabama are not as long suffering as men of New York.

Racketeers would find Alabama is a bad climate for their health.

PASSING through Philadelphia you read of a kidnaping among gangsters involving an unusual display of brutality.

William Weiss, Philadelphia racketeer, kidnaped and murdered was kept for several days before he was killed in a "dog house," four feet high, seven feet long, "weighted down with scrap iron, to make sure that he would not crawl away."

Two men are on trial for the kidnaping and murder and will probably be convicted. Two others that planned the crime have been executed for another murder.

Racketeering may be profitable, but it is not safe.

JUDGE NIELDS rocks the "New Era" boat, declaring a law unconstitutional that says employers must let workers join whatever union they choose. The government will appeal to the Supreme Court.

Mr. Green, for the American Federation of Labor, says labor will not accept the decision of Judge Nields. It must accept it, or start a premature revolution, until the Supreme Court decision comes, probably not until fall.

There is nothing in the Nields decision to prevent workers striking and fighting it out with employers in the usual way. But they would not have the power of government back of them in a strike.

That Dog Of Yours Better Have A Tag!

Deadline For 1935 Licenses Passes And Prosecutions Will Begin

If you own a dog and have failed to procure a 1935 license for it, you'd better watch out. Either that or hurry and get a license.

Prosecution of owners of dogs in Lawrence and Beaver counties who haven't done so will commence this week, J. Wylie Brewster, local enforcement officer, warned today. He will commence his investigations at once.

'The tags should have been on March 1. The law specifies that and we intend to see that no dogs roam about without licenses," he cautioned.

Pattison, general chairman of the FHA in Lawrence county, to meet in the FHA offices, room 420 Greer building, on Monday evening.

Matters which will be of interest to these contributors will be discussed at this time. Mr. Pattison explains that this meeting is not for the purpose of raising additional funds, but is one for the dissemination of information.

The lists will be open to them through March 8, after which they will be made public.

AROUND CITY HALL

Police chronology for 24 hours ending at 3:30 p. m., March 1, five arrests on charges as follows: violation of parking law 4, drunkenness 1.

Last summer city detectives arrested a group of New York City boys who were riding about the city attempting to lure young girls into an auto and when they appeared in police court they were fined heavily. Their photographs and fingerprints were taken and a letter concerning their activities sent to New York by Detectives Chief McMullen who said that in his opinion the boys were not working, had too much money for their age and probably would bear watching. Not long ago he received a police letter which said that three of them had been arrested there for assault and robbery. One of them was sentenced to 30 years in prison, another to five years and sentence on a third has not yet been sentenced.

The city detectives bureau has an owl, likewise the office of the chief of police. Both were shot by Mayor Charles B. Mayne and Detective Chief W. G. McMullen who has a hobby for taxidermist work, stuffed them. He also has a Bittern in his office. It was found crippled by Deputy Game Warden James McClure. The bird had to be dispatched and it was given to McMullen who stuffed it. McMullen has quite a collection of all kind of animals and birds which he has stuffed.

It was announced at the police station today that Don T. Wells who with Harry Thompson were captured were captured after they were surprised by McMullen who, at that time, was a patrolman attempted to crack the Haney company safe, has been paroled. Both were sent away from this county to serve from 2½ to 5 years. Wells was arrested May 31, 1932.

Attorney Ralph Cooper, secretary to the civil service board for firemen stated this morning that 15 persons took the examination to decide their eligibility for a captaincy or lieutenancy in the fire department and by Monday he may be able to submit an eligible list to city council. Captain Duke Byers retired some time ago and was placed on the pension list. This made it necessary to hold an examination, the first of its kind, under a law enacted by the last legislature. Cooper said several lieutenants took the examination for the captaincy and the remainder were first grade privates who aspire to the lieutenancy.

Less than one contagious case a day was reported during January, according to the health report of Dr. W. L. Steen which has been presented to council. Chickenpox held high with 12, scarlet fever was second with eight, measles third with three, diphtheria was next, two such cases having been reported while two persons were reported as having pneumonia.

Collection of garbage dropped off during January, according to the report of Superintendent, Howard Phillips, 635 tons having been collected and burned. In addition to the 635 tons, 100 loads were hauled away by outside trucks to the garbage plant and 100 barrels of swill were collected from various places and taken to farms for consumption by hogs.

St. Michaels Kirppus, Geneva Stars Winners

St. Michaels Defeat Youngstown P. N. A. 22 To 20, Geneva Stars Top Sacred Hearts

HEARTS LOSE IN EXTRA PERIODS

New Castle basketball fans had their appetities appeased last night at the Y. M. C. A. floor with two of the greatest games that has been played in this city in some time. The Kirppus, St. Michaels and Ex-Geneva Stars won victories.

In the first game the Kirppus of the City League handed the Epworth M. E. team a 23 to 19 setback, with E. Wainio, Jokinen and Johns starring. The Kirppus led throughout the game.

St. Michael's Win

The second game found the strong St. Michaels champions of the New Castle Church league pitted against the famous Youngstown Polish Nationals and the Babovskymen eked out a 22 to 20 victory in a thrilling encounter, with James "Shimmy" Balla and Andy Motsko, doing the bulk of the scoring. At the half the Youngstownians led by a score of 13 to 12, but the St. Michaels "turned on the heat" in the final periods led by Balla and came through with flying colors. Lamparty and Terleski were the best for the Ohioans. Balla had 12 points for the St. Mikes.

The St. Michaels played a very impressive game and against their older and more experienced opponents looked very good. Mike Slosernick helped quite a bit with a pair of field goals and played a fine guarding game.

Ex-Genevians Win

The third and final game proved to be a hair-raiser with the Ex-Geneva All-Stars playing under the name of the College Hill Markets taking a 41 to 39 victory over the Sacred Hearts in a game that required two extra periods to decide. Art Grahamme, Geneva star was the big gun in the attacks of the Beaver Fallians with 15 points At the first half the Sacred Hearts led 17 to 14. Grahamme ran wild the second half and piled in six field goals. Kersteder also played a fine game for the Genevians.

At the end of the regulation game the score was 35-35 In the first extra period both teams scored two points, making it 39-39. The visitors scored two points against none for the Hearts in the second extra-period and it was 41 to 39. Gallagher and Vigali led the Sacred Hearts in scoring.

Three Games In League Monday

Three games will be played in the Sunday School league at the "Y" floor Monday night. The first game will start at 8 o'clock.

The St. Johns Lutherans will play the Highland U. P. in the first battle. The First Baptists champions of the first half will tangle with the First Christian "B" team in the second game, which will be the feature attraction, and the Mahoning Presbyterians will meet the Third U. P. in the third and final game.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Lou Ambers, sensational young fighter from Herkimer, N. Y., gave Sammy Fuller, Boston veteran, a lacing in 15 rounds at New York last night. It was an excellent scrap in the early rounds and one that wound up in gore. Ambers became careless in the 15th and a left knocked him groggy. Fuller, his own face battered, tore into Lou and strove to pull the fight out of the fire with a knockout. As Ambers staggered, Fuller put a right hook to Lou's left cheek hat drew more blood.

Indiana State Teachers beat the Edinboro Teachers 39 to 33 last night at Indiana. The Indiana team was out in front most of the time. Holland, center, and Leson, guard, scored a total of 22 of Edinboro's points. Geneva beat Allegheny 43 to 18 at Beaver Falls. It was a good game during the first half but after that Geneva was not in danger. They scored 27 points to 7 for Allegheny in the second half.

Jim Londos, heavyweight champion wrestler of the world, has been suspended indefinitely by the New York state commission. It was in line with the action of the California commission which set Londos down for failure to go through with a match last Wednesday.

TRACK AND FIELD

It may not be good news to the many track fans that have so enthusiastically followed the sensational mile races between Lovelock, Bonthron, Cunningham and Venzke, but it begins to look as though this great event is now due for a letdown.

In the first place it takes a race between at least two great runners in top form before records are broken. Cunningham has apparently retained all of his 1934 ability, but Bonthron, his rival and seemingly his equal last season, is nowhere near him. The result has been that the Kansas Flyer has been winning decisively, but he has lacked the extra "push" that a close competitor instils.

The past three years have witnessed performances on the cinders and the boards that have been hitherto unequalled. And these fine records have been paralleled all the way by large attendances at the major meets of both the indoor and outdoor season.

The new world's records in all the events and the large gates went hand in hand—the large throngs urged more and better contestants to greater heights, and these in turn by their sensational performances increased the number of track-minded fans.

Beyond all shadow of a doubt the increase in track interest in the United States was due to the fact that the '32 Olympics were held in this country. Why, prior to the trials for these international games in 1931 it was not uncommon for a 4:45 mark to win the mile or a 10:10 to win the 2-mile in dual meets between major colleges. Now these marks won't rate a place for the runner on the varsity in most of the larger schools while it usually takes at least a 4:30 and 9:50, respectively, to win.

While the mile event may lapse temporarily, the sport as a whole should continue to progress. The fans have been converted to the track and field and will likely maintain their interest. The races—hurdling, sprints and middle distances—stress competition in a glaring manner, and it's competition that makes any athletic contest of interest to both the participants and the fans.

But in spite of the feverish pitch of excitement the athletic world has shown in the mile runs, the event must show a relapse at least temporarily.

The most active volcanoes have periods of comparative calmness and the great thunderstorms are always broken by intermittent periods of relief—sometimes lengthy, quite frequently very brief; but it does happen. And so it is with the especial track events which must also have times of rest.

The records bear out the truth of this. It is the same in all events but we'll take the mile as an example:

It was in 1923 that Paavo Nurmi ran his 4:10 2-5 mile. From then until 1925 or '26 the event was followed keenly by the fans, due to the color and ability shown by Nurmi, Ray, Hahn and others. After that period the excitement died down a bit, and so also fell the track times turned in by the leading milers.

Then Jules LaDoumegue of France bettered Nurmi's mark in 1931, and once again the mile run hit the headlines of the sports pages. In the same year Carl Coan set the stage for the big blast in America by running some fine races for Pennsylvania U. He hit 4:13 on Feb. 17, 1931.

The real fireworks started with the indoor record of 4:10, set by Gene Venzke on Feb. 6, 1932. Fans became excited, runners became interested, and soon Striding Gene had competition from such noteworthy performers as Bonthron, Cunningham and Lovelock.

Now, three years after Venzke's historical run, plenty of records and exciting races have been marked down in the books. It is very likely that another period of rest is at hand for the mile event before other Bonthrons, Venzkes and Cunninghams begin shooting at the present records.

Take Up Golf At High School

Instruction Will Be Given Pupils Looking Forward To Forming Golf Teams

New Castle high school students will become golf-minded, on Monday, when classes will be organized under the tutelage of Angelo "Dike" Monsey, pro of the New Castle Field Club.

Group instruction will be given all who desire to take up the subject during the third period on Monday and Friday afternoons, looking forward to the formation of varsity teams as soon as the weather becomes fit for play, which will be in but a few more weeks.

Monsey will also coach the varsity golf teams and with some splendid material available, it is expected to have a team representing the school which will be able to hold its own with the various other high schools of the district.

Golf has been added to the athletic activities of a number of the high schools in Western Pennsylvania, and quite a number of schools were represented in the final tournament last spring.

The team will be under the supervision of the Athletic Association at the high school.

GOLF MEETING TUESDAY

Dr. R. C. Gilmore, secretary of the New Castle Church golfing league announced today that a meeting of the church league managers and officials would be held at the Gilmore office in the Temple building next Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock. Plans for the Church golfing league will be discussed.

New Wilmington Trims Bessemer

New Wilmington Takes 22 To 17 Victory To Keep At Top Of County Heap

EXCITING BATTLE IN EVERY PERIOD

(Special To The News)

BESSEMER, Pa., Mar. 2.—New Wilmington High School basketball team remained tied with Shenango High for the leadership of the Lawrence County High School league, by taking a sizzling 22 to 17 victory over Bessemer High in a game played here last night. The Bessemer High gym was packed to capacity for the titantic engagement.

The defeat may eliminate Bessemer from further consideration, unless Shenango or New Wilmington falter. At the end of the first period it was 1-1. The end of the first half found the New Wilmington boys ahead 11 to 5. In the third period the Bessemers picked up steam and New Wilmington's lead was cut to 13 to 9. In the final period both teams threw caution to the winds and piled up point after point. Bessemer High rallied and tried hard to overtake the New Wilmington team but fell short by five points.

Very Fine Game

It was a battle worth seeing with the title at stake and both teams trying hard for the coveted victory. The scoring stars in the battle were Eagleson for New Wilmington with 12 points and Bill Hart with five points. Throop and Poushey led the Bessemers in scoring with four points apiece.

New Wilmington's tough battle will come next Friday night at the New Wilmington High floor when Coach Ed. Raney will take his league leading Shenango High team to do battle with the Eaglesonmen.

Bessemer High deserves credit for the battle that they waged last night but it just wasn't in the books for the Frederickmen.

In the preliminary game the Bessemer High girls defeated the New Wilmington lassies 34 to 7.

Lawrence County Meeting Postponed

Owing to the press of other business which kept the managers busy last night, the scheduled meeting of the Lawrence county baseball league for Friday night at the Sporting Goods store has been postponed until Thursday night of next week.

When blowing out dinner table candles, lift candlestick off the table and hold candle slightly above your lips. If you do this the wick will not smother and drop down, and it is more easily lighted next time.

Titans To Play Slippery Rock

Will Meet Teacher Five At Slippery Rock This Evening

HARD GAME IS IN PROSPECT FOR TITANS

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Mar. 2.—The second-last game of the season for the Westminster college basketball team will be played at Slippery Rock tonight when the Titans engage Coach Thompson's Teacher college five in the return match.

This game will mark Westminster's seventh contest in 11 days, considerable of an undertaking for any basketball team. Coach John Lawther was able to rest his regulars in the Edinboro contest, but Thursday night's hard game with Bethany on the small Bison court will have its effect.

Slippery Rock has in Truman one of the best centers in the section. The lanky star has on a number of occasions tallied from 15 to 20 points in a game. He will have to be watched closely by the Titans, for in the first contest between the two clubs he tallied 11 points.

In the first game played at New Wilmington on January 7, Slippery Rock forced the Titans throughout the entire game and lost by a 39-26 score. The Teachers were leading 18-16 at half time after taking the lead at the start of the game and keeping from 3 to 4 points ahead during the first 20 minutes. The score was tied twice in the second half, and the Teachers were kept in the running by the fine work of Truman, Tatala and Ortman.

Coach Lawther plans to start Wilhelm and Hunneke at the forwards, Bennett at center and Leyshock and Sweeney at the guards if these men are all available. Bennett and Sweeney are not in very good shape physically and may have to be replaced.

Farrell Panthers Will Play Humberts

Monday night the Humbert hall will feature one of the best semi-pro basketball teams in Western Pennsylvania and Eastern Ohio with the Humberts playing the famous Farrell Panthers.

The Panthers have taken the first half title of the city league in Farrell and are out to win the championship. They have a reputation of being a fast passing team. The Humberts will have to be at their best to defeat this great quintet Monday night.

A preliminary game has been arranged starting at 7:30 o'clock.

THE GUMPS—FRIENDLY ADVICE

Hunt Slayer Of Youngstown Boy

(International News Service)

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Mar. 2.—With a $500 reward offered in the manhunt, search for the fiendish slayer of Frank Suhovecky, 13-year-old schoolboy, was accelerated today.

A local newspaper announced it would pay the reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the murderer simultaneously with a broadcast by Police Chief LeRoy Goodwin that four detectives had been specially assigned to the case.

The boy's body, horribly slashed, was recovered from Lake Cohaset Thursday after he had been missing for 10 days.

The Royal Savage, Benedict Arnold's flagship in Lake Champlain, was sunk by the British in the Revolutionary War. In September, 1934, it was raised and the spikes holding the oak beams together were still in perfect condition after 158 years in water.

FAVORS WOODWARD BILL

310 Leasure Avenue
New Castle, Pa.,
March 2, 1935.

Editor, News

Dear Sir: There was an error in the report of the Legislative committee meeting of the Woman's Club in the March first issue.

The subject on which I spoke to the members of the committee was the calling of a Constitutional Convention and the Bill that I reviewed at length was the Woodward Bill S. 28, instead of the one reported in Friday's News.

The maner of choosing delegates to the convention, the political subdivisions from which they should come and the conditions of their eligibility are matters of grave concern, and the people should have a direct voice in determining all of them.

It was the consensus of opinion of the members present that this was the proper Bill to support, as it gives the citizens an opportunity to vote on the question.

The members were asked to write to Senator Alonzo S. Batchelor asking him to use his influence to bring the Woodward Bill out of committee and secure for it a majority vote.

Respectfully yours,
(Mrs. W. A) Bella A. Taylor

East Brook Grange

'PENNSYLVANIA' IS TOPIC

Members of East Brook grange met in the grange hall Thursday evening. After several pieces of business were transacted, an educational program on "Pennsylvania" was enjoyed by all present.

In answer to the roll call, members told of "Beauty Spots in Pennsylvania I Have Visited." This was very interesting. Mrs. John Robinson then told about "Our State Flower" revealing to the group that Pennsylvania had no state flower chosen until May, 1933, when legislature acted on the mountain laurel as state flower. Mrs. Robinson told some interesting things about this blooming shrub. A paper entitled "Industries of Pennsylvania" was presented by Bob Jameson and was very well prepared, covering all industries of the state. Another well prepared paper was that of Mrs. Thomas Lindsey. Her subject was "The Part Pennsylvania Played in the War of the Revolution." This being a broad subject brought forth a wealth of history which carried the listeners back to school days. Mrs. Lindsey told some facts which are not found in school history books.

"An Explanation of Why Pennsylvania is Called the Keystone State" was given by Miss Alice Bowden. This paper gave the information that Pennsylvania has several nicknames and reasons for each were told. Miss Bowden also stated that she learned while preparing this paper, that the state tree is the hemlock and state bird is ruffled grouse.

The program closed by the entire group singing a song entitled "Pennsylvania."

A magazine exchange table was suggested by Mrs. Mae McConaghy lecturer. This was given favorable comment and was decided to have this feature. A person to have charge of the table will be appointed at the next meeting. The county contest which was to have been given will also be held over until the next meeting on March 14. The contest is to be conducted as a "spell down" and a good time in this is anticipated.

Dr. C. C. Green, superintendent of schools, stated today that only adults were to be permitted to the public concert of the Civic Orchestra in the Franklin High School Friday night. Children who come must be with their parents. This rule excludes students of all ages by them selves.

Another performer was Doris Martin.

Greek Forces Come To Grips With Revolters

Rebellious Naval Officers Seize Five Ships Of Greek Fleet

BOMBING PLANES USED IN ATTACK

Fear Casualties May Be Heavy But They Are Not Known As Yet

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

ATHENS, Mar. 2.—With heavy casualties already recorded, government forces came to grips today with rebellious naval officers who seized five ships of the Greek fleet and launched a revolt against the government of Premier M. P. Tsaldaris.

Holding out bitterly despite earlier defeat of army rebels soon after insurgent elements in both branches of the nation's armed forces attempted a coup d'etat, the naval insurrectionists aboard the captured warships clashed with government airplanes in the Sea of Candia off Crete.

(Editor's Note: A Central News dispatch to London stated it was feared the death-roll would mount into the hundreds.)

Ship Hit By Bombs

Bombing planes dispatched from military and naval airports overtook the rebel warships Averoff and Niki at sea. The latter ship was hit by bombs and disabled.

The Averoff, however, put up stiff resistance. Government planes dropped two bombs but the rebels replied with 100 rounds of small cannon and machine-gun fire. Casualties in this clash were not known.

Coincident with the Averoff's resistance, the government ordered shore batteries along the coast to open fire on the rebel ships whenever they approach within range. The insurrectionists apparently were well armed, as each sortie by loyal forces met with sharp return of fire.

Declare Revolt Suppressed

Meanwhile, the revolt on land staged by military corps in various

International Currency War Continues To Rage

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Mar. 2.—The international currency war raged unabated today as the pound sterling was hammered down to a new low and the price of gold skyrocketed to a new record high.

On the local foreign exchange market, the pound dropped three cents to $4.78¾, the lowest levels since devaluation of the dollar a little more than a year ago, while in the Paris market the sterling rate touched 71.812 francs, also a new record low. The frenzied rush for gold in London sent the price of the yellow metal to 146 shillings 10½ pence an ounce against 145 shillings 1 penny yesterday, an increase of 1 shilling 9½ pence an ounce, the largest over night fluctuation since the hectic days of the World War.

Fund For Hauptmann's Death Chair Fight Raised

(International News Service)

TRENTON, N. J., Mar. 2.—Bruno Richard Hauptmann's lawyers apparently have raised all the money they need to finance his fight to escape death in the electric chair as the slayer of the Lindbergh baby.

This was indicated here today by persons close to the defense who declared more than $20,000 had been raised since a Hunterdon county jury found Hauptmann guilty of first degree murder several weeks ago.

It is understood that $10,000 came in hand in letters that averaged as many as 500 a day, immediately after Hauptmann, his wife and lawyers made their public appeal for aid. The remainder was collected more

Quell Prison Riot At Newark

(International News Service)

NEWARK, N. J., Mar. 2.—Two guards were slugged and bound and 51 male prisoners furiously pounded at barred doors for an hour before a riot in the Newark house of detention was quelled today.

Twenty-six women prisoners, locked up in their own second floor dormitory, listened in terror as the roaring mob of male prisoners ranged through the building seeking an exit they could beat down.

Guards from the Newark street jail, across the street, police headquarters reserves and radio patrol squads were rushed to the detention house before the rioting could be quelled.

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Mar. 2.—The court battle to prevent the Montour Railroad from tapping the Youngstown steel district will be carried to the United State supreme court by the Pennsylvania Railroad, it was announced here today.

Pennsylvania Railroad counsel yesterday obtained an order of supercedeas from the Pennsylvania supreme court, holding in abeyance the verdict the Pittsburgh Coal company's subsidiary won and re-instating the injunction granted the Pennsylvania company in Beaver county courts. The supercedeas will remain in force pending a decision by the supreme court of the United States.

State Legislature To Be Asked To Consider Changes In Marriage Laws

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Mar. 2.—Demands will be made of the state legislature for favorable consideration of legislation to amend the state marriage laws by a group of local women voters who, under Judge Lois McBride, are engaged today in a campaign to curb "Gretna Green" marriages.

Three resolutions, all aimed at forestalling hasty wedlocks, were adopted by a meeting of the women. They recommend revision of the bill, sponsored by Representative Herbert Cohen, York, to require a five-day notice of intent to marry rather than three days, make publication of marriage licenses mandatory and that cost of such publications be added to the license fee.

"I talked with Mr. Cohen," Judge McBride told the meeting, "and he said he would be willing to amend his bill, in committee, to five days, if we could help him to get it through."

WILL ROGERS SAYS:

(Special To The News)

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., Mar. 2.—Good deal of news. King of Siam abdicates. He always seemed like a pretty nice little fellow, but a king is sorter like a politician. It's hard to tell when he is making good or bad.

The Saar Valley was officially turned back to Germany. Too bad they don't allow the islands they took away from Germany to vote on whether they wanted to go back, too.

You know that's always been a sort of a touchy point with these big allied nations. They don't like to have anybody bring up the subject of the gobbling of Germany's possessions. That's the skeleton in their closet that they are not so proud of.

You can get you a baby bond, or a pound of baby beef —they both cost the same.

Yours,

Will Rogers.

House Majority For Democrats Is Decreasing

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Mar. 2. — The Democratic majority in the House of Representatives was cut to nine votes today, as illness temporarily struck another of its leaders.

Floor Leader Frank W. Ruth, Berks, was reported ill in a Washington hospital with a bad cold that may develop into pneumonia. He was stricken while attending the American Legislators' conference. His place probably will be taken by Rep. Herbert Cohen, York, until he returns.

Democrats started the biennial session two months ago with 117 members, 12 more than a constitutional majority. Rep. Harry N. Boyd, Westmoreland, floor whip, suffered a stroke. Rep. Eward B. Labar, Pike, died a short time later. Now Ruth is ill, cutting the active majority membership to 114.

Missouri Bank Is Looted By Bandit Gang This Morning

WAYLAY EMPLOYES ARRIVING FOR WORK

(International News Service)

NEOSHO, Mo., Mar. 2.—The First National bank here was looted of approximately $16,000 today by a gang of bandits who broke into the institution during the night and waylaid employees as they arrived for work.

The gang operated in two groups and had two automobiles in which they made their escape in opposite directions. Three of the outlaws operated inside the bank while their companions stood guard in an alley at the rear of the building.

Eight employees of the bank, including E. C. Coulter, the cashier, were tied up by the bandits. When a timelock opened the vault the trio scooped up all the bank's available cash and fled to the waiting cars and sped away.

Relief Projects Off Friday Night

All But Four RWD Projects In The County Abandoned Temporarily

With the exception of four small projects in the county, all RWD projects were discontinued Friday night, March 1, upon orders from State Administrator Robert L. Johnson. Lack of funds is ascribed as the reason for the shutdown, due to the impasse in congress over the passage of the $4,800,000,000 relief bill.

It is hoped here that money will be forthcoming within the near future to resume RWD operations. Many projects are uncompleted and if left stand for any length of time much of the work already done will be lost.

All workers on RWD who were laid off Friday night are today being certified to the direct relief rolls from which they will receive their checks until such time as the RWD reopens.

Judge Sentences Farmhand To Die

Sherman Strawser 29, Sentenced To Electric Chair For Killing

WANTED MONEY TO BUY GIRL DRESS

(International News Service)

MIDDLEBURG, Pa., Mar. 2—Despite an impassioned plea for clemency by his counsel, Sherman Strawser, 29, a farmhand today was sentenced to die in the electric chair for the murder of his former employer, Charles E. Gable, 64, a well known Snyder county farmer, on the morning of last February 12.

Strawser accepted his fate calmly as Judge C. C. Lesher, before whom he had pleaded guilty pronounced sentence while state troopers, warned of a possible demonstration against the defendant, stood guard.

Former Judge Miles I. Potter who was appointed by the court to defend the penniless Strawser, asked for clemency on the ground that Zella Gill, Strawser's 16 year old sweetheart, was involved in the plan to kill the farmer.

Strawser in his confession said he killed Gable and then robbed him of $80 to buy a wedding dress for Zella, and pay a fine for her father, Lester Gill, now in jail on a liquor charge.

House May Act On Bonus Bill In Coming Week

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 2.—Frankly ignoring the administration's attitude, house leaders today planned to bring the $2,000,000,000 soldiers bonus issue to a vote next week if possible.

The strategy of house leaders was to permit a bonus bill to pass—all predicted a whooping victory—and dump the issue into the lap of the senate.

Compromise proposals, leaders said, can be submitted to the senate when it wrestles with the problem.

With the ways and means committee planning to hold hearings only on Monday and Tuesday, it was possible that the house may act on the bonus issue Thursday.

Compromise On Wage Issue Being Sought

Senate Coalition Is Starting Drive To Force Start On Balancing Budget

WORK RELIEF BILL FATE IS UNCERTAIN

Efforts To Agree On Prevailing Wage Rate Issue Still Deadlocked

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, March 2—While administration leaders sought a compromise on the prevailing wage controversy over President Roosevelt's $4,880,000,000 Work Relief bill, a bipartisan senate coalition today organized a drive to force the government to start "balancing the budget."

Coalition leaders privately charged the government would have the stupendous indebtedness of $50,000,000,000 by the end of the next fiscal year. They declared the reported public debt of $28,000,000,000 was but a portion of the government's total outstanding indebtedness. The higher sum, they added, included such debts as the unpaid soldier's bonus, postal savings, guarantees of the bond isslues of emergency agencies and outstanding currency.

To Offer Amendment

The coalition will offer an amendment to the President's bill, forbidding expenditure of any part of the proposed $4,000,000,000 work fund until the administration has

Cummings' Fate Rests With Jury

Murder Trial Of Former Swissvale Police Chief Completed Friday

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Mar. 2.—Charged with the murder of his wife, Julia, Tom Cummings, former Swissvale police chief, today awaited the verdict of a jury that will decide his fate.

The case was given to the jurors, three women and nine men, late yesterday afternoon following the charge by visiting Judge S. A. Culver. Court was then adjourned.

In his charge Judge Culver pointed out that the jury could bring in a verdict of first degree murder, with a recommendation of death in the electric chair or life imprisonment; a second degree verdict, carrying a sentence of 10 to 20 years, or an acquittal.

Mrs. Cummings was slain early on the morning of last September 11, in the bedroom of her apartment. Her husband was arrested following the discovery of a revolver hidden in a chimney of the basement. It was contended that this was Cummings' gun, which, the state said, he used to murder his wife. Cummings contended that his wife was slain by "a mysterious enemy."

RELIEF FUNDS ARE ALLOTTED FOR 15 DAYS IN MARCH

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 2.—The FERA today announced allotment of $56,576,574 for relief in all but fourteen states for the first fifteen days of March. Allotments have not been made to 14 states either because applications have not been made by the governors or because the states have not complied with requirements laid down by Administrator Harry L. Hopkins.

BODY OF STRANGLED MAN IS DISCOVERED IN VACANT HOUSE

Murder Victim Is Found Near Robinson's Crossing Beyond Edenburg

IDENTITY NOT AS YET KNOWN

Man Likely To Have Been Brought To House From Across State Line

Discovery of the body of a man in the cellar of a vacant house on the road to Lowellville, about a quarter mile beyond Robinson's Crossing, shortly before noon today, has developed a murder mystery for the State Police and County officials.

The man had been strangled to death, wire being pulled taught around his neck, and had evidently been dead for at least two weeks. He appears to be an Italian of about 30 years of age, and was fully clothed when found. He wore dark blue trousers, a pale green shirt, a purple colored sweater and a black scarf. The sweater had been pulled up over his head.

Discovery Made

The discovery of the body was made this morning by Fred Stouffer and his son, Robert, in the basement of an unoccupied home, owned by Miss Helen Eldridge, of Lowellville. Mr. Stouffer and his son were cleaning up the premises, preparatory to moving in soon, and the boy happened to go down cellar. He discovered the body of the man lying on the ground and quickly informed his father. The father investigated and determining that the body was cold in death, notified County Coroner Orville Potter. Mr. Potter is ill and C. E. Allen, a deputy hastened to the scene.

Dead Two Weeks

An examination by the latter showed that the dead man had been murdered, evidently strangled to death with a wire which was still tightly drawn about the neck. The body was in good state of preservation, but indications were that the man had been dead for at least two weeks.

Convinced immediately that it was a murder case, the deputy coroner summoned the state police from New Castle, and an investigation was immediately launched.

No Clue To Identity

Clothing on the man revealed nothing that would give a clue to his identity. Everything that might give any inkling as to identity had been removed. This made it apparent to the officers that the body may have been brought to the home and deposited, death having taken place somewhere else. Nearnss to the Ohio State Line, of the home gave emphasis to the belief that the murder victim was probably from that state, especially in view of the fact that no one has been reported missing in this section, of late, who might fit the case.

The remains will be brought to New Castle, and an effort is being made to find some method of identification that will give the officers a start on the task of unravelling the mystery.

Two Murder Cases On Court Docket

Indictments Will Be Presented To Grand Jury When It Convenes Monday

March term of criminal court will convene on Monday, when the grand jury will take up consideration of the indictments to be presented by District Attorney Mont L. Ailey. Of principal importance are two alleged murder cases which are on the list. Joe Stinnett of Crescentdale, near Wampum, is charged with the murder of Clint Jones of the same place. It is claimed that during an argument Stinnett shot Jones, who died in the Jameson Memorial hospital from the effects of his wounds.

The other murder case is that of James Mitchell, who is charged with shooting his wife, Evaline Mitchell. The defendant claims that he was handling a revolver when it was accidentally discharged, the bullet striking his wife.

Eight Year Old Son Saves Life Of His Mother

Mrs. Frank Borio, Sr., Is Burned Severely When Clothing Takes Fire

Quick thinking and immediate action by her eight-year-old son Frank Jr., probably saved the life of Mrs. Frank Borio, Sr., of Moore avenue, Friday, when her clothing ignited while she was standing near a grate fire, and badly burned the back of her body.

Mrs. Borio was standing with her back against the grate, while preparing her son for school. The woman was bending over when her clothing caught on fire. Her son immediately grabbed a rug and wrapped it around his mother's body. He then summoned help.

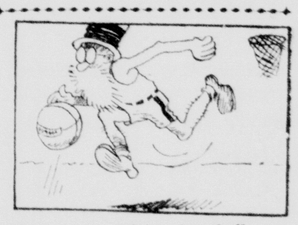

Mrs. Borio's back was severely burned. Her condition, according to the attending physician, is fair.

FACES TRIAL FOR DEATH OF TEACHER

Charleroi Youth On Trial Monday

Accused In Connection With Death Of Donora School Teacher

YOUNG WOMAN DIED FROM BROKEN NECK

(International News Service)

GREENSBURG, Pa., Mar. 2.—Westmoreland county authorities announced today that William Leatherman, Charleroi youth, would be placed on trial in county court here Monday for the death of Viola Dennis, Donora school teacher, to whom he was engaged.

Miss Dennis died of a fractured neck suffered one night last summer while accompanying Leatherman to a party.

Leatherman claims the injury occurred accidently when the girl climbed out of his car after a petty quarrel and stumbled over an embankment near Webster. District Attorney Richard Laird, however, indicated the state will contend the youth pushed Miss Dennis over the grade when she stumbled from the car.

Assisted by state police, county authorities quietly investigated the case until six months later when the proceedings came into the open demands of the victim's father for criminal proceedings.

The Rose Avenue Parent-Teacher association met in the school auditorium on Friday evening for its regular monthly meeting.

The meeting was opened by the singing of America, followed by the P. T. A. prayer given by Miss Cox. A piano solo was rendered by Miss Jean Chapman.

The climax of the program was reached with an interesting talk on "Character Building" given by the Rev. P. C. Pearson of Trinity church. He spoke on the different ways character can be brought out in our daily lives, giving interesting quotations and examples of how character was brought out in the lives of great Americans. He further stated that all of our social relations are based upon religion, and that character is the direct connection between religion and conduct.

A regular Founder's Day service brought the meeting to a close.

Your Sympathy

Words say so little when the Grim Reaper strikes. Our emotions are incapable of expression and in our stumbling, human way we endeavor to solace the bereaved. Try as we will, words are still inadequate. Not even flowers can express our emotion to the full but at least they are the most expressive medium we know. And when the flowers are arranged—tastefully and delivered fresh, their sympathy seems to be accentuated.

COMPROMISE ON WAGE ISSUE BEING SOUGHT

taken steps to amortize the debt by imposing new taxes and segregating the revenue in a special sinking fund. The issue raised would be whether the government shall take steps now to balance its budget, as promised by both parpes in their 1932 platforms, before spending another huge sum.

The President's bill faced a torturous legislative future. All efforts to compromise the differences between Mr. Roosevelt and the liberal senate bloc on the wage issue have failed. A counter proposal, offered by Senator Robinson (D) of Arkansas, with reported presidential blessing, was given a cool reception by the liberals, who insisted they were battling for a great principle which could not be compromised.

Bill Endangered

Several other threats endangered the bill's future. One was the drive of conservative Democrats to discard the whole work program, slash the appropriation to $1,880,000,000 and confine its use to direct relief and the sort of "made-work" now familiar to all communities. Some observers believed this would be the final fate of the bill.

Other attacks will come from the inflation and silver blocs.

The President's bill remained in an appropriation committee pigeonhole over the week-end. The committee probably will meet Monday to resume battling over it.

Fellow Rotarian:

Do you know how wages are arrived at for RWD workers? Do you know how many hours a week they work? These questions are settled by arriving at the Budgetary deficiency and we will have Rotarian Jim Moorhead, the head of the local relief office tell us all about it so when we present taxpayers go on relief we will be able to figure out our own pay checks.

GREEK FORCES COME TO GRIPS WITH REVOLTERS

parts of the republic was declared entirely suppressed. A number of deputies friendly to the former Venizelos regime, held responsible for the uprising, were arrested, together with members of the republican defense organization.

Government plane which returned from bombing the rebel battleships showed signs of being well peppered during the fighting.

Only three government newspapers were published. These reported that Italian warships in neighboring waters had asked their commands for instructions in view of reports the Greek fleet had been in the hands of rebels.

Loyal troops used artillery in suppressing one battalion of the Republican guard, a fierce battle preceding the surrender.

It was announced officially that the government had known for some time that Gen. Pautiras was plotting a revolt while living at Cannes, France, and that as a result precautionary measuers had been taken.

Answering the signal for revolt, two companies of infantrymen of the Evzones barracks, some cadets from a military school at Evelpides, and five warships responded for action against the government.

The remainder of the armed forces, said the government, remained loyal, and the revolt soon was broken.

Mrs. Hauptmann Aids

New York, Mar. 2.—Mrs. Bruno Richard Hauptmann, wife of the convicted slayer of the Lindbergh baby, had made another apparently successful public appeal for funds to aid her husband's defense today. She appeared at a dance and entertainment given by a German society in Queens and spoke briefly in her native tongue.

A collection was taken up and, it is understood, $200 was raised for her.

She said:

"I am grateful that so many people are sticking by my husband and myself, and I know that you all feel the same as I do, that he is innocent of this crime. I visited my husband last Tuesday in the prison at Trenton and he is standing up like a soldier."

Minstrel Show Is Fine Success

Men's Bible Class Entertainment At Highland U. P. Draws Large Crowd

About 250 or 300 members of Highland U. P. church had an hour of genuine fun Friday evening in the church basement, when the Men's Bible class put on a minstrel show.

Rev. D. L. Ferguson, and Ralph Davis as end men almost "stole" the show but Ray Rhodes and Albert Batten were close seconds, vying with Richard Johns who capably filled the role of interlocutor. Judy Sypher was there with "old-time music" which was never better and a supporting chorus was composed of Lee Marvin, John Staley, Leonard Kisthart, Ray Cartwright, Jack Edgar, Tom Lindsey, Dave Jones, Phil Williams and Gail Blim.

The audience, addressed by Mistah Davis as "ladies, what come with them, and the sprouts," was kept in an uproar by clever jokes and puns on well known associates. The specialty numbers were exceptionally good, including solos by Rev. Ferguson who sang "Ol' Man River"; Mr. Davis whose "hit" was "The Preacher and the Bear'; Mr. Kisthart, who sounded truly "The Big Bass Viol"; and Mr. Rhodes portraying "The Long Yaller Girl."

The quartet composed of Jones, Johns, Kisthart and Ferguson, was heard in "Close Harmony" which drew rounds of applause. So well were all the numbers received, in fact, that deeper appreciation was shown in the presentation of two handsome vegetable bouquets, one being wished upon Interlocutor Johns, and another from the members of the Men's class to Rev. Ferguson.

Young William Batten and James Vogan were heard in harmonica and accordian selections. The chorus work was most effective.

The evening's entertainment was under the management of R. S. Cline who deserves much credit for its success, along with all the minstrelers who acquitted themselves admirably.

The understanding when she left home was that her husband was to send her money to return, but he never sent it, despite repeated requests. He has done nothing since toward supporting Mrs. McClung and the children.

The guests were seated at small tables-for-four that had been decorated elaborately in green and white. The shamrocks at each table were convincing reminders of the approach of St. Patrick's Day. Small bud vases added to the prettiness of the effect.

One of the most interesting entertainment features was a one act play given by the following high school students, and entitled "The Fatal Till:" Kathleen Shuttleworth, student director, Helen Bauman, Joseph Fisher, Jean Hoose and James Bradford, in the cast.

ESSENTIALLY A COWARD

HOW courageous are the Dillingers and the Barrows, the Floyds and the Nelsons and the rest of the gentry who enter banks in daylight, fight their way out in a blaze of machine-gun and revolver fire and live from day to day in a close intimacy with death?

The question has been asked many times during the course of the successful crusade against them and the answer usually given is confirmed by Dr. Harry R. Hoffman, a noted Chicago psychiatrist, who has examined hundreds of criminals and who believes that the average desperado is utterly devoid of true courage.

The criminal walks unflinchingly into danger often because a low mentality and a lack of imagination enable him to do so. A peace-loving citizen, Dr. Hoffman points out, would exhibit unusual courage in doing some of the things a desperado does, because he would be doing it when he has knowledge of probable consequences.

Dr. Hoffman has found that nine out of ten criminals wilt and give pitiable evidences of a broken, fear-stricken spirit when their guns are taken from them or they are locked in cells. Basically, the man who takes human life as if it were a cheap commodity is a coward.

CONTRADICTIONS

An English visitor not long ago made a three or four weeks' trip across the United States, and the things he saw impressed him so deeply that he had to retire to his study at once and write a book.

In this book, according to advance reports, he expresses his utter amazement at the contradictions he found in American life. Accustomed to the staid and orderly conditions of England, he was bewildered and a little appalled by what he saw over here.

These things being so, his only possible recourse was to turn author and speak his mind about things.

It is impossible not to feel a little sympathy for him, because if there ever was a country which it is impossible to understand at a glance it is this America of ours.

Some of us, indeed, have lived in it all our lives and still don't understand it. It is, all in all, about as amazing a land of contrasts and contradictions as human beings ever made.

It is a land which professionalizes college athletics and makes heroes out of prize fighters and baseball players; it is also a land which produces scientists and casts a 200-inch telescope to look at stars that man never saw before.

It is the land where the dollar is worshiped, but it is also the land which is willing to go seven or eight billion dollars in the hole in an effort to break its way out of a trade depression.

It is the land of cheap movies, cheaper radio, and "society leaders" who endorse tooth paste for pay—and it is also the land that produces persons like Jane Addams and gives men like Leopold Stokowski free rein to create beauty.

It puts a Huey Long in its senate, and then counter-balances him with a George W. Norris. It is the land of the Lindbergh kidnaping, but it is also the land which produced Lindbergh himself.

It is world-famous as a land of boasters, but for years it has paid good money to foreign authors and lecturers to tell it what is wrong with it.

It is the hard-hearted land of lynchings, and it is the generous land which will send millions of dollars to Japanese earthquake victims. It maintains a gigantic navy and spends millions on aircraft, but it is the only nation brave enough to expose the chicanery of munitions manufacturers.

You could go on like that for an hour. How, indeed, is any foreigner to understand such a people?

A compound of wisdom and foolishness, of braggadocio and humility, of strength and weakness—we can't understand ourselves.

We can only sense that we are a strange people of infinite possibilities, who are trying to build a society unlike any other on earth . . and our saving grace is the fact that generally speaking we have spasms of courage and of idealism that help prod us on to try making it better than any other.

Between spasms a sense of humor contributes to helping keep us from killing cynicism and discouragement.—Times, Monroe, Wisconsin.

REGULATION IS SUGGESTED

Enactment by the legislature of a law requiring motor vehicles to stop within reasonable distance of a school bus stopped along the highway to receive or discharge passengers is being urged by the Pennsylvania Motor Federation. Several deaths have occurred and a number of narrow escapes reported on Pennsylvania highways through failure of drivers to use proper caution in passing school buses, according to the federation.

Ohio, Indiana and several other states have laws requiring that motorists stop for a school bus loading or discharging passengers. Consolidation of schools in many rural communities has brought about in Pennsylvania during the past several years a big increase in the use of buses to carry children and these boys and girls must be given every possible protection.

Many drivers are extremely cautious when they see a bus loaded with children on the street or highway, but there are motorists to whom this means nothing. Through a law requiring every driver to stop when a bus halts to receive or discharge passengers existing hazards can be considerably reduced.

ORDEAL OF LONELINESS

When the news came to the outside world that Admiral Byrd had left the main camp at Little America and had undertaken a long, lonely vigil with the attainment of scientific purposes in view, there was considerable speculation as to the reasons why he did not take with him at least one companion.

After determining that it was impossible to take food for more than two men to the advanced camp, Admiral Byrd decided to go alone because of his belief that it was psychologically impossible for only two men to live through the period of unbroken darkness together, at least on satisfactory terms. He feared a temperamental clash.

There is psychological opinion and also actual experience to support the soundness of Admiral Byrd's theory. Loneliness plays havoc with the nerves of men and it is known to have transformed close friends into bitter enemies.

BOREDOM IS A SIN

"So you want to get into heaven?" said Saint Peter to the Mortal Soul.

"Yes, Saint Peter, I would like to come into heaven," said the Mortal Soul. "I have tried on earth to be a good man. May I enter?"

"Just one moment, please, before you enter," said Saint Peter. "Were you ever bored when you were living down there on our little earth?"

"Yes, I was," replied that Mortal Soul. "There were times when I was terribly bored, and longed for heavenly peace and quiet."

"Then, my friend, I am sorry, but you cannot come in today. I am afraid that if you were bored on that heaven, and we can't have bored people around here. . . . Please go back and take another look at the earth and its people. Stay a while and cure your boredom. Find what you seemed to have missed.

"Look at all those lovely trees, leafy or bare or in blossom. Listen to the singing birds. Admire the clean lines of horses, the lean grace of all wild animals. . . . Watch sunsets and dawns, stars and changing moons and glowing sun. Green mountain peaks and falling snow and running water. . . . Things that grow, things that men make. . . . Take nothing, my friend, for granted and feel boredom slip away from you.

"Live close to people in joy or in sadness. Be a part of their lives, not apart from them. Struggle, suffer, lose, win, create, accomplish. Despair, even, and get your courage back again. Starve, fight, dream and do. Let the tears fall, let laughter ring out. Be alive on that fascinating earth you have left behind you—and learn at last that boredom is one of the greatest of sins. . . . And after you have fallen in love with that good earth you have despised so foolishly, come up here again and I'll have another look at your credentials."

So the man went back to the earth and lived to be 118 years, 8 months and 16 days old, and enjoyed every minute of his second chance at life.

ORGANIZED EFFORT ACCOMPLISHES MOST

There are not many people so very busy that they must work at breakneck speed.

Usually the person who is always in a hurry and almost invariably late is the one who wastes time.

This results in extra speed to make up for squandered minutes.

The persons who accomplishes most seems never in a hurry but is always busy.

He has a plan and follows it.

The rusher has no plan, so he can't keep up to anyone's schedule.

This rule holds good among autoists.

Those who drive the fastest have the least to do when they reach their destination.

Often a driver who passes at top speed—far beyond the limit—will be found later visiting with a gas station attendant.

The workers who seem to have more than twice what should be expected of them will be seen loafing or very often doing something not in the least important to the main object.

If the necessary jobs which must be done by a specified time are undertaken first, the lesser jobs may be done in slack time.

The one who appears abnormally rushed reverses this order.

JANET DISCUSSES AN AGE-OLD PROBLEM

Whenever I ask for long dresses to wear
Or shoes with high heels or a wave for my hair
Or on school nights, permission to go to a show
Or a neighborhood dance, mother always says: "No!
And remember the answer is final and flat—
Your mother was married before she did that."
If I mention New York and the wish to go there,
Mother puts down her sewing and says: "I declare
Who's ever have guessed that a twelve-year old girl
Wohld be wanting to sample New York's dizzy whirl.
Before ever I'd made such a journey my dear,
Your father and I had been married a year."
Before ever a compact and lipstick she carried
Or painted her finger nails, mother was married
She was married before she had powdered her nose
Or went very often to dances and shows.
And even though times very different are,
She was married before she had driven a car.

If I ask for silk stockings she say: "Gracious me,
I was married before I had silk hosiery!
I was married before I had been on a ship
Or taken so much as a sleeping-car trip."
And sometimes I wonder and wish that I knew
What mother before she was married, did do?

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight 5:52. Sun rises tomorrow 6:32.

Sentiment is growing for a six-day week in the state legislature. They could get a lot of their work done without having to chase back home to consult their political backers so often, if this were the case.

Governor Earle will have a lot of support in his campaign to eliminate useless jobs of which there are plenty in the state of Pennsylvania. He could continue this on down to the county and city units, too, and save us more money.

"Twelve o'clock! Can't he tell when it's time to go home?"

"But father! You always said you hated anyone who watched the clock.

What really gives some girls that shopworn expression, is the fear of being left on the shelf.

If the two cent proposed increase in taxes is passed by the State Legislature the cigaret smoker who consumes a pack of these little puffs each day will pay a tax of eight and one half cents. Of course there are hard hearted folks who will say that people have no business smoking cigarettes, but they could also get along without lipstick, powder and paint. Why hit the cigarette smoker for a knockout?

Law must be fair. If you can force a man to employ you, he can force you to work for him.

There are better places to waste sympathy than on papa and mama Dionne, who are now kicking because the Canadian government took over the guardianship of their quintuplets. When the children were born the parents were on public relief. When it developed that the babies, because of world wide interest, became a source of income the parents were taken off the dole and given $75 a month from the quintuplets trust fund. Since that they have filled a lucrative engagement in vaudeville. They don't seem to realize the government saved their children, but now that they have money they're getting high-hat. Lots of people get that way when prosperity comes.

The constant pull of the moon against the earth as it revolves about the sun, is eventually going to cause a day to be forty-seven days long instead of 24-hours, a scientist claims. This will please the fellow who hates to get up out of bed at 8 o'clock in the morning.

KNOW ANY BIGGER?

There's a lot about those cyclones in southwest Kansas V. F. Tannehill, of Longview, Wash., could relate, but as he fears he would not be believed he confines himself to the happenings of the summer of '92 when the winds were of something less than cyclone velocity.

For three days hot winds blew steadily over that section of the anti-cigarette state until by midnight of the third day there wasn't a pea or a cherry which hadn't been dried up and blown away. Faced with a food shortage, the people took to eating jack rabbits which were plentiful thereabouts. Morning, noon and night man, woman and child ate jack rabbit week in and week out, until, as you would expect, this diet began to have a peculiar effect.

Of course, there had always been some athletes in that section of Kansas, but nothing could touch the performance of Grandma Perkins, who broke the world's broad jump record at the local county fair the day she celebrated her 83rd birthday. And even Daddy Fairbanks won laurels for himself by halving the time on the world's quarter-mile record. Daddy hadn't done much training lately, but even so, he said, he made a better showing than when he ran in a championship race the year the War of 1812 broke out. Unfortunately for Grandma Perkins and Daddy there were no track officials there to record their time. In some of the more strenuous sports a few of the younger members of the community excelled, but none were as spectacular as the run and immense jump that Grandma made. When it came to fights, it was quite common to see the fighters leaping over each other kicking viciously.

Perhaps the strangest effect the rabbit diet produced on these Kansans was in the matter of babies. One of the neghboring families was blessed with the arrival of triplets, and another, living a half mile down the road, were overwhelmed with quadtriplets. It was a circus alone to see how those babies hopped around.

Some fifty years ago spelling bees were a source of entertainment and education in Lawrence county. An attempt was made last winter to resume this old sport, but it met with indifferent success. So many people nowadays realize that they are such poor spellers that it is hard to get them to give an exhibition of their ignorance. When they are given such a word as "syzgy" to spell they just naturally wilt.

Fashion advisers state that there will be no more material in bathing suits this year than there was last, which is probably just a polite way of saying that there will be less.

Husbands are a good bit like hard times. They are never so bad but what they could be a little worse.

Says Editor E. T. Rodemeyre of the Centralia (Mo.) Fireside Guard: "A farmer friend tells us that in investigating the federal farm loans he has found that if a farmer has all of his stock mortgaged, had no money and is in absolute want, he can get some free seeds, which if planted with a post-hole digger that will go down to moisture, may grow but can not mature before the frost gets the crop. But, all the while the government employee on the job of giving 'relief' is drawing a high salary and probably gets free gas for his car as he rides around over the country."

When a young couple drop out of sight, anxious relatives always fear foul play or an elopement, and we presume that one would be just as bad as the other.

Wives may come and wives may go, but alimony goes on forever for the man who has just lost one in the courthouse.

If the job had been executed as a relief measure the creation of the world would never have been accomplished in six days.

On a rainy Sunday you can get the same effect by placing a spare tire in front of your chair and watching it all day.

SYRIAN BR'ER RABBIT

The tales Uncle Remus told didn't come from Georgia after all, according to archeologists of the Oriental Institute of the University of Chicago. They claim Br'er Rabbit and all his friends came from ancient Syria originally, and by being handed down by word of mouth now exist in a Southern locale.

The world is gradually getting back to normal after the big noise at the Hauptmann trial, but an effort is being made at Pittsburgh to make a sensation of the Andy Mellon tax case. So far the government don't seem to be getting anywhere. There's one big difference between the Hauptman and the Mellon cases. If Andy loses it won't be necessary for his admirers to pass the hat.

Scientists tell us that in eight billion years the days will be twenty-four hours long and so will the nights. Seems there's always something to worry about.

Pictures smuggled out of Soviet Russia showing the terrible scenes of death and suffering in the wake of famine, are adequate proof that the Moscow-controlled food and farm products supply is a tragic farce. Yet there are radicals here who would put us in the same boat. For them: 48 hours to board ships for home.

When some inconsequential case gets before the courts you can't convict the accused unless all twelve of the good men and true agree upon a verdict. But our whole monetary structure, which hits our pockets most, can be settled by our highest court by a majority of one, five one way and four another. How come?

Enemies aren't so bad. They slander us, but they aren't the ones who come and tell us about it.

NEW YORK, Mar. 2.—There probably will be much discussion now in administration circles concerning federal judges.

Five who gave adverse decisions on the NRA are old standpat Republican appointees. They hold their jobs for life.

But there are 30 emergency judgeships and congress now has a measure before it to make those permanent, life-long. That means removal only by impeachment.

There may be a searching investigation of those appointees prior to making their tenure permanent.

Administration supporters say that many of the federal district judges are unaware or unresponsive to vast social changes that have occurred since the days they were cut in competitive life, chiefly as corporation lawyers.

FORCES COURSE

Adverse court decisions on the NRA are expected to have an important bearing on the Roosevelt administration's own course.

Those decisions may cause the administration to abandon a middle-of-the-road course and put through labor and trade amendments to the pending NRA bill that would remove present obscurities. That is exactly what some of the large business interests do not desire. But congress—especially the senate—is in a receptive mood for such clarifications, and the president knows it.

NO MORGAN MYSTERY

J. P. Morgan's partners are trying to dissipate the mystery connected with Morgan's sale of art treasures and "surplus land" around his estates.

The Morgan partners say that Morgan's purpose is to accumulate money to pay the inheritance taxes on his huge estate when he dies—without disturbing the estate.

BETHLEHEM EARNINGS

The best boost for the McSwain bill "to take the profits out of war" was the digging up by the senate munitions committee that Bethelehem Shipbuilding company had profits of $68,000,000 during the war.

DONAHEY'S LETTER

A. Vic Donahey, Ohio Democrat, known for pursuing his own course, who came to the United States senate in spite of the Roosevelt administration, is running true to colors. He, together with Senator Robert Bulkley, of Ohio, ordinarily a Roosevelt supporter, voted for the "prevailing wage" amendment.

Ohio has a large industrial population.

But, of course, both senators received some protests.

Senator Donahey (and this is characteristic) responded to each protestor with this form letter (and saw that workers heard of it):

"With relation to your objections on my vote for the McCarrin amendment, let me advise you that I have never yet short-changed a working man, and never will, knowingly.

"Every progressive man in the senate voted for this measure. I will continue to support it. The public was led to believe that it would cost additional billions by reason of the adoption of this amendment. This is absolutely untrue. It will not cost one cent additional.

"The principle that 'the laborer is worthy of his hire' should apply equally to the unemployed as well as to the employed labor of America in either public or private endeavor.

"Why lower the living standards of all working people because of the desperation of the unemployed?

"The majority cannot jam their policies down my throat unless they are right. Furthermore, for your information. I will vote against the $4,880,000,000 public works appropriation if it is not earmarked and intelligently explained. I am in full sympathy with public work relief but I have some regard for my oath of office.

"I will make mistakes, but they will not be dictated mistakes; they will be mistakes of judgment. I appreciate frank, honest criticism."

SATURDAY, MAR. 2

March 2, 1638—New Sweden was established in America.

Descendants of the Scandinavians who had come to the western land in 996 A. D. and named it vinland the Good, and also Skraellinga Land, came to the Delaware River in the ship-of-war Key of Colmar and a smaller vessel Bird Griffin.

Leader of the expedition was Peter Minuit, 58, Prussian, who had been governor of New Netherlands (New York) until he clashed with the Dutch government and was discharged.

Mar. 2, 1784—Francois Blanchard, 31, the Orville Wright of ballooning, made his first ascent.

Mar. 2, 1820—"Missouri Compromise" bill was passed finally by by Congress.

Mar. 2, 1867—Congress created a Department of Education. It began the upbuilding of the most extensive and costliest school system in the world. But the nation's school bill of two and a half billion dollars a year is still less than its annual expenditures on past and future wars.

Mar. 2, 1929—A lot of persons ignorant or forgetful of history innocently supposed that wars were over as 11 nations deposited their ratification of the Kellogg-Briand anti-war treaty at Washington, thereby completing their pledge to renounce war as instrument of national policy.

Military expenditures of the signatory nations have increased every year since, and two of the treaty-nations, Italy and Japan, are currently using war as an instrument of national policy.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

JUST ADOBE

The oldest skyscraper in America the "Great House of the Casa Grande" in Arizona, has been given a new roof by the United States Government.

Built more than five hundred years before the landing of Columbus by a race that has since vanished completely, the ruins of what was once an imposing four-story structure were gradually being destroyed by sun, rain and wind until the Government stepped in and covered it with a modern roof. The new roof in no way detracts from the looks of the ruins, being supported on a new structure at some height above the ancient walls.

Whoever built the "Great House of the Casa Grande" built well, for these walls that have stood for centuries were made out of ordinary mud—adobe

You're Wrong If You Believe— That George M. Pullman invented the railroad sleeping-car or built the first ones used in this country.

That food can be boiled with equal ease everywhere.

It can't. Persons living at high elevations have difficulty in getting things to boil. On Pike's Peak, for instance, it takes five times as long for potatoes to be boiled as in the Minneapolis, Minn., home of E. W. Upcott, who calls this to our attention. The reason, of course, is the reduced pressure at high elevations. On tall mountains, water boils at so low a pressure that food cannot be cooked by boiling.

Mr. Upcott adds that we're wrong if we believe that cornstarch won't explode.

PAMPHLETS CONTAINING BIBLE READINGS TO BE DISTRIBUTED TOMORROW

Pamphlets containing brief Bible readings for each day in Lent will be distributed at the Trinity Episcopal church on Sunday, when the rector, the Rev. Philip C. Pearson, will tell more about the Foward movement, as inaugurated at a meeting of the general convention of the Episcopal church in Atlantic City last fall. The Foward movement and its implications offer a practical guide to the religion of Jesus Christ, the rector states.

First Pentecostal Congregation To Hear New Pastor On Sunday Morning

REV. BOSTON TURNER BEGINS PASTORATE

Rev. Boston W. Turner, in his capacity as new pastor, will on Sunday morning deliver his first sermon from the pulpit of the First Pentecostal church of this city.

Rev. and Mrs. Turner arrived in New Castle this week from Camden, N. J., where the former has been pastor of the Calvary Tabernacle, and took up their residence at 128 North Walnut street. Their coming was greeted enthusiastically by the First Pentecostal congregation; the women of the church served a sumptuous chicken dinner and had the parsonage all prepared for the comfort of the new occupants. A reception was held in their honor.

Rev. Turner, although a young man, comes here after extensive experience in church work, and with fine recommendation. He received his training in the ministry at the Bethel Bible Training school of Newark, N. Y., and has been preaching since. He is a man of charming manners, a splendid speaker, and his new congregation is unanimous in its welcome and appreciation.

He was extended a call on January 1 of this year. The church had been without a pastor since Rev. John Kellner resigned to go to Binghamton, N. Y., on the first of September, 1934.

Tea Strainers, Chicken Wire Used To Create "Bugs" For "Insect Comedy" At College

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Mar. 2.—Tea strainers, chicken wire, papier mache, copper wire, and cloth—that's what bugs are made of! At least that's how bugs are made by the students and stagecraft at Westminster college as they complete the costumes for "The World We Live In," satirical comedy. The play will be produced in the little theater of the college next Wednesday, Thursday, Friday, and Saturday nights.

Under direction of Professor A. T. Cordray Miss Isabel Scheetz, Hudson, O., and students in stagecraft have planned and made all special costumes for the production which will have a cast of 40 students. A few of the more conventional attires have been rented for the production. All characters in the play are insects, each one symbolic of a type of human.

Masks for some of the insect characters have been made of papier mache. Tea strainers are used for eyes on some of the masks. Snail shell costumes are wire frames over which has been stretched chicken wire. This has been covered by dyed cloth.

The stage setting is an ingenious combination of wood, cardboard and cloth, so arranged as to represent an anthill and different ground levels of a forest scene. Gauze netting stretched over the front of the stage, and special lighting effect, worked out in the little theater, will give atmosphere to the production.

Two months of preparation have gone into the planning and making of sets, costumes and properties for the production, and it promises to be one of the outstanding plays of the long list of dramatic successes under Professor Cordray.

On Court House Hill

Deputy Sheriff Elmer Taylor this morning mailed out notices for petit jurors to appear for jury duty on Monday, March 18, being the second week of criminal court.

Commission of Edward E. Marshall, as notary public, was filed at the office of Register and Recorder, William R. Hanna today. Notary commissions are issued by the state department.

Bert Dinsmore, assisted by Janitor Clifford James, is building a book case in the south end of the corridor on the second floor of the court house. This has been waste space and it will accommodate a truck load of records when completed.

Prothonotary R. M. Campbell had inquiries from Akron, O., yesterday regarding an Akron couple who were supposed to have obtained a marriage license here and to have been married by Justice of the Peace, H. M. Reynolds. Search showed that no license to the couple had been granted here and Reynolds had married nobody giving the names mentioned.

Deputy Sheriff Ben Hartland yesterday served a subpoena in divorce on Sarah J. Haswell of Perry township. The application was made at Clinton, Iowa, by her husband, John W. Haswell. According to the papers received at the sheriff's office, the divorce is asked on the grounds of desertion.

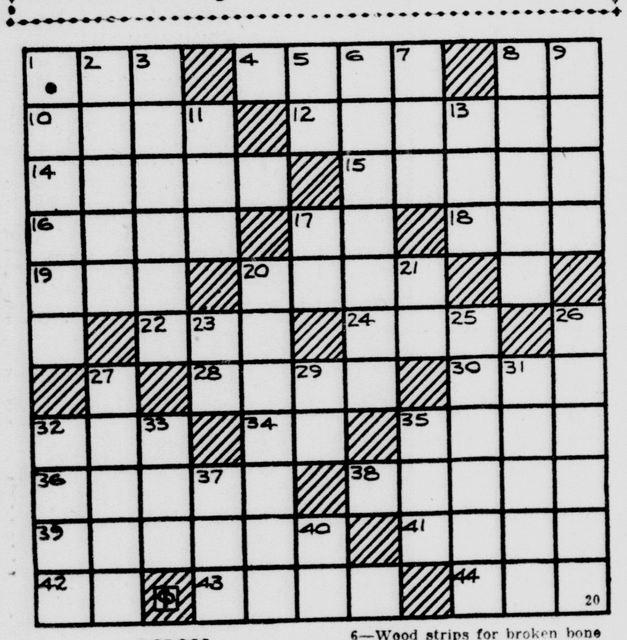

In the jury list for March 11 which was published in The News, Richard R. Hilliard of Bessemer, was listed as a laborer, whereas he is a foreman at the Metropolitan brick plant. The error was probably made by the person who turned in the name of Mr. Hilliard to the jury commissioners.

In the case of the Peoples Savings and Trust Company, use of Metropolitan Life Insurance Company against Frank Herjecki, testimony was taken before Judge James A. Chambers on a petition to stay a writ of execution. It was claimed by the defendant that to sell his property in the present depressed market would work a hardship. After hearing the testimony as to the value of the property and the amount of the mortgage Judge Chambers took the briefs of attorneys and will hand down a decision later.

The court is considering the appointment of an assistant in the office of Parole Officer Jack Dunlap, to take care of clerical work. Dunlap has managed to do this himself so far, but it is understood that the plan is to give him additional work in checking up on delinquents in non-support cases. When these cases are tried orders are generally made for the payment of a certain amount per week by the husband to the wife. When these payments are not made a process is often issued for the delinquent and he is lodged in jail, where he remains until his case can be heard. Often the delinquency is due to inability to secure work. If additional help is given the parole officer he will be required to keep a check on persons who fail to comply with the orders of court and report on the man's ability to pay.

Sheriff Edward D. Pritchard has devised a card system for taking care of the registration of brands of chickens and cattle owned by farmers of the county. Heretofore when chickens have been stolen, it has usually been difficult for owners to identify their birds when arrests have been made and a prisoner is placed on trial at court. Under a system which is being introduced in the county, the poultry owner is given a brand. It is placed on a chicken's wing by an injection of indellible ink, such as is used in tattooting. This brand, which is usually a number, is registered in the sheriff's office. When stolen chickens are recovered it is then a very simple matter to identify them In the card system arranged by Sheriff Pritchard the name and address of the farmer is given, and his brand is perforated on the card. So far over fifty cards have been returned to the sheriff's office.

Industrial Outlook In Ellwood Good

Plants Are Operating Well At Present Time, Survey Reveals

SOME OF PLANTS ARE AT CAPACITY

ELLWOOD CITY, Mar. 2.—Ellwood City is experiencing one of the most encouraging and optimistic periods of business recovery it has had in years, it is evident, as a result of a survey made of the industries in the city.

Facts, figures and statements of the present time as compared with those of the past four years, put an optimistic outlook on business for the future.

Out of 13 major industries in the city ten of them are doing a fine business in comparison with three and four years ago.

Since its employment spurt last summer the local Shelby plant of the National Tube company on an average has been kept busy. The payrolls of May, July, August, November, December of 1934, and February of this year have been quite large. One of the most busiest periods is seen for the month of March. Preliminary plans for April and May look bright.

The Aetna Standard Engineering company has been working 90 per cent of its capacity for the last two months and will continue to do so for a period, according to the business outline of officials. The payrolls of the last two months have been the largest of anytime in the past four years. Within the last two months the plant has employed 100 additional men, it is reported. Where they could not obtain their former employes new ones were hired.

The Mathews Conveyor company is working near capacity since receiving a large order a few months ago. The business has been 33 per cent better in the past few months over 1933 and the payroll has been doubled or a 78 per cent increase over that period.

Ellwood City Forge company, operated by J. A. and D. A. Evans, has resembled a bee hive in the past few months. Their business and payroll has been doubled or an increase of 75 per cent. Quite a few additional men were employed. The plant is making some of the largest forgings it has had in years.

Business in the Beaver Enameling company plant here has about trebled over a few years ago and the payroll has been more than doubled. At present the plant is going at capacity and has a bright outlook for continuing for a spell, according to an official statement. Just recently there has been an employment spurt here.

Business in the Ellwood company, a foundry operated by C. W. Carbeau, has been so good in the past year that the plant and personnel have had to be increased. It is operating at capacity at present and orders are awaiting them for quite a period.

The situation is similar at the American Cotter Pin company. The plan is working at capacity. Business has increased about 75 per cent and the pay roll about 40 per cent. There are orders for three months ahead, according to a statement of the plant manager.

The Ellwood Brass & Bronze company, operated by George Hemmerly, has been kept on the go. The plant has been flourishing. There are sufficient orders for a period to come. The personnel and payroll have been appreciably increased.

Ellwood City Iron & Wire company, operated by S. D. Johnston and sons, has been operating well for the past few months. More men have been employed. The plant has been kept busy in working on all steel buildings. There are still many orders waiting to be attended to, according to the plant manager.

Two plants, the Ellwood Steel corporation and the Stronach Nail are awaiting a revival in the building industry, at which time nails will be in demand. There is a hopeful outlook for them when the government gets its building program in full swing.

Specialty Foundry company on Factory avenue has been inactive but is making arrangements to operate again as soon as business details have been attended to.

All in all this is one of the brightest periods the city has experienced in several years.

Pioneer Citizen Dies This Morning

Mrs. Anna Wilkinson Passes Away At Hospital After Three Weeks Illness

ELLWOOD CITY, Mar. 2—Ellwood City today is mourning the death of one of its pioneer residents and most active citizens with the passing of Mrs. Anna Wilkinson, 83, at 4 o'clock this morning in the Ellwood City Hospital after an illness of three weeks.

The deceased was one of the most beloved citizens of the community and had acquaintances and friends from all walks of life. She had been a resident of this city for nearly 30 years and a member of the Emmanuel Reformed church here for 25 years.

Mrs. Wilkinson was born in England where she spent her early life. In 1874 she was married to Samuel Wilkinson, a pattern maker of the National Tube Company. They came to America in 1888 and to Ellwood City in 1906. While here Mr. Wilkinson served two terms as a school director and was treasurer of the board for two years. He was chairman of the building committee at the time the Hartman school was built. Mrs. Wilkinson was preceded in death by her husband in July, 1926. In March of 1924 the couple had celebrated their Golden Wedding anniversary.

Mrs. Wilkinson is survived by only one daughter, Elizabeth, at home. Funeral services will be held on Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the late home at 512 Franklin avenue.

Ellwood Trims Rochester High

Tubers Use Fine Passing Attack To Take 44-21 Victory Last Night

COLE STARS WITH NINE FIELD GOALS

ELLWOOD CITY, Mar. 2.—Rochester high passers were baffled by a diversified passing attack of an Ellwood City high quintet Friday evening at the Lincoln gym and were humbled 44-21.

Bill Cole, sensational local forward, again displayed his form by caging nine field goals for a total of 18 points. Luxenberg and Scopelite also gave a creditable accounting of themselves. The fine floor work of Alex Robuck caught the eye of the spectators.

The locals got clicking on all six in the last half. They held a 10-7 edge in the initial period and 21-13 at the half. They went to work seriously in the third stanza and counted up 18 points to 5 for the visitors. Ellwood also got an edge in the final chapter with the subs in the affray. Moore and Elling played a good game for Rochester.

The Ellwood Reserves took a convincing 30-14 victory over the Rochester Reserves in the preliminary game. They took an early lead which they never relinquished. The score at the half was 13-6. The locals staged a strong rally in the last quarter. Houserman and Young were outstanding for the victors while Genevie was best for the losers.

Stock Market Is Stationary

Main Body Of Stocks Shows Only Minor Changes After Opening Today

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Mar. 2.—The stock market drifted listlessly today awaiting the outcome of the pound-dollar currency war.

With the exception of the gold and silver shares which were stimulated by the skyrocketing of prices for gold and silver in the London market, the main body of stocks showed only minor changes.

U. S. Smelting rose to a new high for the current movement above 122 for a gain of more than a point, while Cerro De Pascoe, American Smelting, Howe Sound and Alaska Juneau scored fractional gains.

Industrial shares including U. S. Steel, Bethlehem and American Can held in a rut.

General Motors drifted fractionally under yesterday's closing prices. Chrysler was barely steady.

Irregularity prevailed in the railroad shares where New York Central, Baltimore & Ohio and Pennsylvania held narrowly.

There was little to feature the utility shares.

Building shares were steadier following yesterday's decline.

From Cold To Hot.
Room For 1,000,000,000.
Poor King Of Kings.
Two States Dry.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

MIAMI, Fla., Mar. 1.

THIS IS written going south through Florida, newspapers all the way down from New York complaining of bitter cold, thick snow along the track much of the way. When you run into Florida and turn east toward the Atlantic and the Gulf Stream, no more bitter cold.

The black pig and her young ones just outside the window, mercifully spared from the government "farrow sow" slaughter of the innocents, are rooting in hot sunlight.

A young colored woman, dressed in beautiful wide stripes, knitting outside her door, has chosen a place in the shade. Room abundant and winter sunlight for fifty millions more down here, and some day they will come when men learn how to balance production and distribution and stop cheating and killing each other.

One hundred millions and more will live in California, champion all-year-round-sun parlor of the world. Complete development of the airplane, swift flying, slow landing, transportation at normal cost, will make available for one thousand million more Americans beautiful sites now neglected on hilltops and mountains. Twice the present population of the earth could live comfortably and happily here in the United States and will, some day.

The state of Texas alone, intensively cultivated, could feed the two thousand millions on earth today.

Get your railroad ticket, steamship ticket, airplane reservation or your 1935 automobile, travel and see this country. Now it is cheaper to travel than to stay at home. Not to own a car is extravagance.

HAILE SELASSIE, the first emperor of Abyssinia and "king of kings" of Ethiopia, who does not like Mussolini's looks, or his threats, writes conciliatory letters to Mussolini and the Italian king.

Thousands of Selassie's Mohammedan subjects are leaving Abyssinia to join the Italian army, eager to fight against their emperor. They dislike the Abyssinian brand of Christianity.

Semi-barbarous, primitive people hate each other as dogs hate foxes. In India the Mohammedans make it easy for the British to hold down the Hindus. Providence seems to be on the side of the higher civilizations.

SOMEBODY sent Senator Huey Long a bomb, deadly on the outside, innocent inside. Senator Huey Long, said to "blame J. Pierpont Morgan and Standard Oil for part of his troubles," is probably mistaken. J. Pierpont Morgan and Standard Oil do not send bombs to anybody, and if they did the bombs would explode.

Rupert Peyton, of the Louisiana House of Representatives, amusing himself disrespectfully at the expense of Senator Huey Long, interrupts proceedings in the Legislature to remark:

"I have just received a mysterious package containing a bomb. There was a message with it, saying, 'Beware, beware, we will kill you to pieces.' Signed, 'J. Pierpont Morgan and the Standard Oil Company.'"

Mr. Peyton told the Legislature:

"I left my rifle at home and I want a special bodyguard of a couple of companies of militia."

Sometimes ridicule is more effective than abuse.

ALABAMA VOTES dry, stands with Kansas, one of the two dry states of the union. Northern racketeers and bootleggers must not hastily conclude that Alabama offers a paradise of profit.

First, Alabama knows how to make corn whisky at a price per gallon that would discourage any bootlegger; second, the men of Alabama are not as long suffering as men of New York.

Racketeers would find Alabama is a bad climate for their health.

PASSING through Philadelphia you read of a kidnaping among gangsters involving an unusual display of brutality.

William Weiss, Philadelphia racketeer, kidnaped and murdered was kept for several days before he was killed in a "dog house," four feet high, seven feet long, "weighted down with scrap iron, to make sure that he would not crawl away."

Two men are on trial for the kidnaping and murder and will probably be convicted. Two others that planned the crime have been executed for another murder.

Racketeering may be profitable, but it is not safe.

JUDGE NIELDS rocks the "New Era" boat, declaring a law unconstitutional that says employers must let workers join whatever union they choose. The government will appeal to the Supreme Court.

Mr. Green, for the American Federation of Labor, says labor will not accept the decision of Judge Nields. It must accept it, or start a premature revolution, until the Supreme Court decision comes, probably not until fall.

There is nothing in the Nields decision to prevent workers striking and fighting it out with employers in the usual way. But they would not have the power of government back of them in a strike.

That Dog Of Yours Better Have A Tag!

Deadline For 1935 Licenses Passes And Prosecutions Will Begin

If you own a dog and have failed to procure a 1935 license for it, you'd better watch out. Either that or hurry and get a license.

Prosecution of owners of dogs in Lawrence and Beaver counties who haven't done so will commence this week, J. Wylie Brewster, local enforcement officer, warned today. He will commence his investigations at once.

"The tags should have been on March 1. The law specifies that and we intend to see that no dogs roam about without licenses," he cautioned.

AROUND CITY HALL

Police chronology for 24 hours ending at 3:30 p. m., March 1, five arrests on charges as follows: violation of parking law 4, drunkenness 1.

Last summer city detectives arrested a group of New York City boys who were riding about the city attempting to lure young girls into an auto and when they appeared in police court they were fined heavily. Their photographs and fingerprints were taken and a letter concerning their activities sent to New York by Detectives Chief McMullen who said that in his opinion the boys were not working, had too much money for their age and probably would bear watching. Not long ago he received a police letter which said that three of them had been arrested there for assault and robbery. One of them was sentenced to 30 years in prison, another to five years and sentence on a third has not yet been sentenced.

The city detectives bureau has an owl, likewise the office of the chief of police. Both were shot by Mayor Charles B. Mayne and Detective Chief W. G. McMullen who has a hobby for taxidermist work, stuffed them. He also has a Bittern in his office. It was found crippled by Deputy Game Warden James McClure. The bird had to be dispatched and it was given to McMullen who stuffed it. McMullen has quite a collection of all kind of animals and birds which he has stuffed.

It was announced at the police station today that Don T. Wells who with Harry Thompson were captured were captured after they were surprised by McMullen who, at that time, was a patrolman attempted to crack the Haney company safe, has been paroled. Both were sent away from this county to serve from 2½ to 5 years. Wells was arrested May 31, 1932.

Attorney Ralph Cooper, secretary to the civil service board for firemen stated this morning that 15 persons took the examination to decide their eligibility for a captaincy or lieutenancy in the fire department and by Monday he may be able to submit an eligible list to city council. Captain Duke Byers retired some time ago and was placed on the pension list. This made it necessary to hold an examination, the first of its kind, under a law enacted by the last legislature. Cooper said several lieutenants took the examination for the captaincy and the remainder were first grade privates who aspire to the lieutenancy.

Less than one contagious case a day was reported during January, according to the health report of Dr. W. L. Steen which has been presented to council. Chickenpox held high with 12, scarlet fever was second with eight, measles third with three, diphtheria was next, two such cases having been reported while two persons were reported as having pneumonia.

Collection of garbage dropped off during January, according to the report of Superintendent, Howard Phillips, 635 tons having been collected and burned. In addition to the 635 tons, 100 loads were hauled away by outside trucks to the garbage plant and 100 barrels of swill were collected from various places and taken to farms for consumption by hogs.

St. Michaels Kirppus, Geneva Stars Winners

St. Michaels Defeat Youngstown P. N. A. 22 To 20, Geneva Stars Top Sacred Hearts

HEARTS LOSE IN EXTRA PERIODS

New Castle basketball fans had their appetities appeased last night at the Y. M. C. A. floor with two of the greatest games that has been played in this city in some time. The Kirppus, St. Michaels and Ex-Geneva Stars won victories.

In the first game the Kirppus of the City League handed the Epworth M. E. team a 23 to 19 setback, with E. Wainio, Jokinen and Johns starring. The Kirppus led throughout the game.

St. Michael's Win

The second game found the strong St. Michaels champions of the New Castle Church league pitted against the famous Youngstown Polish Nationals and the Babovskymen eked out a 22 to 20 victory in a thrilling encounter, with James "Shimmy" Balla and Andy Motsko, doing the bulk of the scoring. At the half the Youngstownians led by a score of 13 to 12, but the St. Michaels "turned on the heat" in the final periods led by Balla and came through with flying colors. Lamparty and Terleski were the best for the Ohioans. Balla had 12 points for the St. Mikes.

The St. Michaels played a very impressive game and against their older and more experienced opponents looked very good. Mike Slosernick helped quite a bit with a pair of field goals and played a fine guarding game.

Ex-Genevians Win

The third and final game proved to be a hair-raiser with the Ex-Geneva All-Stars playing under the name of the College Hill Markets taking a 41 to 39 victory over the Sacred Hearts in a game that required two extra periods to decide. Art Grahamme, Geneva star was the big gun in the attacks of the Beaver Fallians with 15 points At the first half the Sacred Hearts led 17 to 14. Grahamme ran wild the second half and piled in six field goals. Kersteder also played a fine game for the Genevians.

At the end of the regulation game the score was 35-35 In the first extra period both teams scored two points, making it 39-39. The visitors scored two points against none for the Hearts in the second extra-period and it was 41 to 39. Gallagher and Vigali led the Sacred Hearts in scoring.

Three Games In League Monday

Three games will be played in the Sunday School league at the "Y" floor Monday night. The first game will start at 8 o'clock.

The St. Johns Lutherans will play the Highland U. P. in the first battle. The First Baptists champions of the first half will tangle with the First Christian "B" team in the second game, which will be the feature attraction, and the Mahoning Presbyterians will meet the Third U. P. in the third and final game.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Lou Ambers, sensational young fighter from Herkimer, N. Y., gave Sammy Fuller, Boston veteran, a lacing in 15 rounds at New York last night. It was an excellent scrap in the early rounds and one that wound up in gore. Ambers became careless in the 15th and a left knocked him groggy. Fuller, his own face battered, tore into Lou and strove to pull the fight out of the fire with a knockout. As Ambers staggered, Fuller put a right hook to Lou's left cheek hat drew more blood.

Indiana State Teachers beat the Edinboro Teachers 39 to 33 last night at Indiana. The Indiana team was out in front most of the time. Holland, center, and Leson, guard, scored a total of 22 of Edinboro's points. Geneva beat Allegheny 43 to 18 at Beaver Falls. It was a good game during the first half but after that Geneva was not in danger. They scored 27 points to 7 for Allegheny in the second half.

Jim Londos, heavyweight champion wrestler of the world, has been suspended indefnitely by the New York state commission. It was in line with the action of the California commission which set Londos down for failure to go through with a match last Wednesday.

By JOHN J. MAHER, JR.

TRACK AND FIELD

It may not be good news to the many track fans that have so enthusiastically followed the sensational mile races between Lovelock, Bonthron, Cunningham and Venzke, but it begins to look as though this great event is now due for a letdown.

In the first place it takes a race between at least two great runners in top form before records are broken. Cunningham has apparently retained all of his 1934 ability, but Bonthron, his rival and seemingly his equal last season, is nowhere near him. The result has been that the Kansas Flyer has been winning decisively, but he has lacked the extra "push" that a close competitor instils.

The past three years have witnessed performances on the cinders and the boards that have been hitherto unequalled. And these fine records have been paralleled all the way by large attendances at the major meets of both the indoor and outdoor season.

The new world's records in all the events and the large gates went hand in hand—the large throngs urged more and better contestants to greater heights, and these in turn by their sensational performances increased the number of track-minded fans.

Beyond all shadow of a doubt the increase in track interest in the United States was due to the fact that the '32 Olympics were held in this country. Why, prior to the trials for these international games in 1931 it was not uncommon for a 4:45 mark to win the mile or a 10:10 to win the 2-mile in dual meets between major colleges. Now these marks won't rate a place for the runner on the varsity in most of the larger schools while it usually takes at least a 4:30 and 9:50, respectively, to win.

While the mile event may lapse temporarily, the sport as a whole should continue to progress. The fans have been converted to the track and field and will likely maintain their interest. The races—hurdling, sprints and middle distances—stress competition in a glaring manner, and it's competition that makes any athletic contest of interest to both the participants and the fans.

But in spite of the feverish pitch of excitement the athletic world has shown in the mile runs, the event must show a relapse at least temporarily.

The most active volcanoes have periods of comparative calmness and the great thunderstorms are always broken by intermittent periods of relief—sometimes lengthy, quite frequently very brief; but it does happen. And so it is with the especial track events which must also have times of rest.

The records bear out the truth of this. It is the same in all events but we'll take the mile as an example:

It was in 1923 that Paavo Nurmi ran his 4:10 2-5 mile. From then until 1925 or '26 the event was followed keenly by the fans, due to the color and ability shown by Nurmi, Ray, Hahn and others. After that period the excitement died down a bit, and so also fell the track times turned in by the leading milers.

Then Jules LaDoumegue of France bettered Nurmi's mark in 1931, and once again the mile run hit the headlines of the sports pages. In the same year Carl Coan set the stage for the big blast in America by running some fine races for Pennsylvania U. He hit 4:13 on Feb. 17, 1931.

The real fireworks started with the indoor record of 4:10, set by Gene Venzke on Feb. 6, 1932. Fans became excited, runners became interested, and soon Striding Gene had competition from such noteworthy performers as Bonthron, Cunningham and Lovelock.

Now, three years after Venzke's historical run, plenty of records and exciting races have been marked down in the books. It is very likely that another period of rest is at hand for the mile event before other Bonthrons, Venzkes and Cunninghams begin shooting at the present records.

Take Up Golf At High School

Instruction Will Be Given Pupils Looking Forward To Forming Golf Teams

New Castle high school students will become golf-minded, on Monday, when classes will be organized under the tutelage of Angelo "Dike" Monsey, pro of the New Castle Field Club.

Group instruction will be given all who desire to take up the subject during the third period on Monday and Friday afternoons, looking forward to the formation of varsity teams as soon as the weather becomes fit for play, which will be in but a few more weeks.

Monsey will also coach the varsity golf teams and with some splendid material available, it is expected to have a team representing the school which will be able to hold its own with the various other high schools of the district.

Golf has been added to the athletic activities of a number of the high schools in Western Pennsylvania, and quite a number of schools were represented in the final tournament last spring.

The team will be under the supervision of the Athletic Association at the high school.

Dr. R. C. Gilmore, secretary of the New Castle Church golfing league announced today that a meeting of the church league managers and officials would be held at the Gilmore office in the Temple building next Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock. Plans for the Church golfing league will be discussed.

New Wilmington Trims Bessemer

New Wilmington Takes 22 To 17 Victory To Keep At Top Of County Heap

EXCITING BATTLE IN EVERY PERIOD

(Special To The News)

BESSEMER, Pa., Mar. 2.—New Wilmington High School basketball team remained tied with Shenango High for the leadership of the Lawrence County High School league, by taking a sizzling 22 to 17 victory over Bessemer High in a game played here last night. The Bessemer High gym was packed to capacity for the titantic engagement.

The defeat may eliminate Bessemer from further consideration, unless Shenango or New Wilmington falter. At the end of the first period it was 1-1. The end of the first half found the New Wilmington boys ahead 11 to 5. In the third period the Bessemers picked up steam and New Wilmington's lead was cut to 13 to 9. In the final period both teams threw caution to the winds and piled up point after point. Bessemer High rallied and tried hard to overtake the New Wilmington team but fell short by five points.

Very Fine Game

It was a battle worth seeing with the title at stake and both teams trying hard for the coveted victory. The scoring stars in the battle were Eagleson for New Wilmington with 12 points and Bill Hart with five points. Throop and Poushey led the Bessemers in scoring with four points apiece.

New Wilmington's tough battle will come next Friday night at the New Wilmington High floor when Coach Ed. Raney will take his league leading Shenango High team to do battle with the Eaglesonmen.

Bessemer High deserves credit for the battle that they waged last night but it just wasn't in the books for the Frederickmen.

In the preliminary game the Bessemer High girls defeated the New Wilmington lassies 34 to 7.

Lawrence County Meeting Postponed

Owing to the press of other business which kept the managers busy last night, the scheduled meeting of the Lawrence county baseball league for Friday night at the Sporting Goods store has been postponed until Thursday night of next week.

Titans To Play Slippery Rock

Will Meet Teacher Five At Slippery Rock This Evening

HARD GAME IS IN PROSPECT FOR TITANS

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Mar. 2.—The second-last game of the season for the Westminster college basketball team will be played at Slippery Rock tonight when the Titans engage Coach Thompson's Teacher college five in the return match.

This game will mark Westminster's seventh contest in 11 days, considerable of an undertaking for any basketball team. Coach John Lawther was able to rest his regulars in the Edinboro contest, but Thursday night's hard game with Bethany on the small Bison court will have its effect.

Slippery Rock has in Truman one of the best centers in the section. The lanky star has on a number of occasions tallied from 15 to 20 points in a game. He will have to be watched closely by the Titans, for in the first contest between the two clubs he tallied 11 points.

In the first game played at New Wilmington on January 7, Slippery Rock forced the Titans throughout the entire game and lost by a 39-28 score. The Teachers were leading 18-16 at half time after taking the lead at the start of the game and keeping from 3 to 4 points ahead during the first 20 minutes. The score was tied twice in the second half, and the Teachers were kept in the running by the fine work of Truman, Tatala and Ortman.

Coach Lawther plans to start Wilhelm and Hunneke at the forwards, Bennett at center and Leyshock and Sweeney at the guards if these men are all available. Bennett and Sweeney are not in very good shape physically and may have to be replaced.

Farrell Panthers Will Play Humberts

Monday night the Humbert hall will feature one of the best semi-pro basketball teams in Western Pennsylvania and Eastern Ohio with the Humberts playing the famous Farrell Panthers.

The Panthers have taken the first half title of the city league in Farrell and are out to win the championship. They have a reputation of being a fast passing team. The Humberts will have to be at their best to defeat this great quintet Monday night.

A preliminary game has been arranged starting at 7:30 o'clock.

Hunt Slayer Of Youngstown Boy

(International News Service)

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Mar. 2.—With a $500 reward offered in the manhunt, search for the fiendish slayer of Frank Suhovecky, 13-year-old schoolboy, was accelerated today.

A local newspaper announced it would pay the reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the murderer simultaneously with a broadcast by Police Chief LeRoy Goodwin that four detectives had been specially assigned to the case.

The boy's body, horribly slashed, was recovered from Lake Cohaset Thursday after he had been missing for 10 days.

The Royal Savage, Benedict Arnold's flagship in Lake Champlain, was sunk by the British in the Revolutionary War. In September, 1934, it was raised and the spikes holding the oak beams together were still in perfect condition after 158 years in water.

FAVORS WOODWARD BILL

310 Leasure Avenue
New Castle, Pa.,
March 2, 1935.

Editor, News

Dear Sir: There was an error in the report of the Legislative committee meeting of the Woman's Club in the March first issue.

The subject on which I spoke to the members of the committee was the calling of a Constitutional Convention and the Bill that I reviewed at length was the Woodward Bill S. 28, instead of the one reported in Friday's News.

The maner of choosing delegates to the convention, the political subdivisions from which they should come and the conditions of their eligibility are matters of grave concern, and the people should have a direct voice in determining all of them.

It was the consensus of opinion of the members present that this was the proper Bill to support, as it gives the citizens an opportunity to vote on the question.

The members were asked to write to Senator Alonzo S. Batchelor asking him to use his influence to bring the Woodward Bill out of committee and secure for it a majority vote.

Respectfully yours,
(Mrs. W. A) Bella A. Taylor

East Brook Grange

'PENNSYLVANIA' IS TOPIC

Members of East Brook grange met in the grange hall Thursday evening. After several pieces of business were transacted, an educational program on "Pennsylvania" was enjoyed by all present.

In answer to the roll call, members told of "Beauty Spots in Pennsylvania I Have Visited." This was very interesting. Mrs. John Robinson then told about "Our State Flower" revealing to the group that Pennsylvania had no state flower chosen until May, 1933, when legislature acted on the mountain laurel as state flower. Mrs. Robinson told some interesting things about this blooming shrub. A paper entitled "Industries of Pennsylvania" was presented by Bob Jameson and was very well prepared, covering all industries of the state. Another well prepared paper was that of Mrs. Thomas Lindsey. Her subject was "The Part Pennsylvania Played in the War of the Revolution." This being a broad subject brought forth a wealth of history which carried the listeners back to school days. Mrs. Lindsey told some facts which are not found in school history books.

"An Explanation of Why Pennsylvania is Called the Keystone State" was given by Miss Alice Bowden. This paper gave the information that Pennsylvania has several nicknames and reasons for each were told. Miss Bowden also stated that she learned while preparing this paper, that the state tree is the hemlock and state bird is ruffled grouse.

The program closed by the entire group singing a song entitled "Pennsylvania."

A magazine exchange table was suggested by Mrs. Mae McConaghy lecturer. This was given favorable comment and was decided to have this feature. A person to have charge of the table will be appointed at the next meeting. The county contest which was to have been given will also be held over until the next meeting on March 14. The contest is to be conducted as a "spell down" and a good time in this is anticipated.

Civic Concert For Adults Only

Dr. C. C. Green, superintendent of schools, stated today that only adults were to be permitted to the public concert of the Civic Orchestra in the Franklin High School Friday night. Children who come must be with their parents. This rule excludes students of all ages by them selves.
